Pursuant to the vote of adjournment of March 24, 1966, and written notices sent by mail by the Town Clerk, the town meeting members met in the Town Hall on Monday evening March 28, 1966, to act upon the remaining articles set forth in the Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting.

Certificates were filed with the Town Clerk by the Charimen and Clerks of Precincts 7 and 8 relative to meetings held on March 28, and of the elections to fill town meeting vacancies until the next annual election, as follows:

Precinct 7 - Paul J. Shea, 149 Franklin Street, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Paul R. Shanahan, whose term was to expire in 1969

Precinct 8 - William H. Farrow, 198 Highland Avenue, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of James B. Wilcox whose term was to expire in 1968.

Lists of the duly qualified town meeting members were used at the entrances to the meeting place and were in the charge of Mary A. Farrington and E. Charlotte Emerson. The lists contained the names of two hundred forty (240) elected town meeting members and nine (9) town meeting members at large qualified to participate in and vote in town meetings in Arlington.

The check lists filed with the Town Clerk at the close of the meeting by the checkers showed that two hundred fifteen (215) elected town meeting members and nine (9) town meeting members at large (89.9% of total 249) attended the meeting.

The Moderator, Lawrence E. Corcoran, declaring a quorum present, called the meeting to order at 8:21 o'clock P.M.

The meeting opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Assembly, accompanied by Mr. Anton Kovar, pianist of the School Department.

"WHEREAS, Leonard. D. Wood, scion of one of Arlington's oldest families, was called to rest by his Maker while in the prime of life, and

"WHEREAS, as conductor of the Arlington Philharmonic Society, he contributed to the culture of the community, and

"WHEREAS, as editor and publisher of the Arlington Advocate, he further contributed to the needs of the community by publishing the newspaper in the tradition of his grandfather, who started the paper almost a century ago, and

Report of the Board of Selectmen

The Board of Selectmen herewith submits its Annual Report for the year ending December 31, 1966.

The past year was an extremely busy one, presenting unusual challenges that demanded the talents of our combined abilities and left little room for indolence or complacency.

At the Annual Town Election in March, Messrs. Joseph P. Greeley and Horace H. Homer were re-elected for three year terms and participated in the first ceremony featuring the swearing in of successful candidates to major town elective offices.

At the first meeting held thereafter the Board organized by electing Mr. Kevin P. Feeley unanimously as Chairman and by electing Mr. Arthur D. Saul, Jr., as Vice Chairman.

Weekly meetings were held throughout the year with the exception of the summer months which were devoted to bi-weekly meetings, except for a number of special meetings which were held in connection with matters of unusual importance.

The numerous routine duties of our office were carried out in the usual manner and entailed the granting of various licenses, permits and other matters that legally required our attention. We also affixed our signatures to various documents which are required annually for the Town to pursue its normal functions.

Among the eighty-five articles considered at the Annual Town Meeting, the most controversial, perhaps, concerned the adoption of a By-Law for the leashing and control of some 2400 dogs within the Town, which, after heated discussion, was adopted by a vote of 133 to 80.

The opponents of this By-Law, however, were of the opinion that an issue of this importance should be settled by the citizens at large and promptly submitted a petition signed by more than 3% of the registered voters calling for a referendum on the question. It is interesting to note that, in more than thirty-one years that the Town has been operating under the present form of representative government, this is only the second time that a vote of the Town Meeting has been challenged in this manner. Accordingly a referendum was scheduled for Monday, May 16, 1966, where the voters overwhelmingly upheld the action of the Town Meeting. The By-Law was approved by the Attorney General and became law on July 8, 1966.

May 16th proved to be a memorable date for another reason, for it was on the evening of the same day that Edward C. Monahan, Arlington's First Town Manager, who, after serving in this capacity for thirteen years, announced his intention of retiring from active service on August 31, 1966.

Needless to say, this announcement, entirely unexpected, was received with amazement and extreme regret. A resolution expressing appreciation for past services rendered and regret at his decision was immediately adopted and entered into the permanent records.

As a result of this announcement it became increasingly clear that the task of finding a qualified successor to fill this position would claim our undivided attention in the months to come.

We subsequently met in Executive Session to formulate a course of procedure to follow in attaining this objective. The International City Managers' Association was alerted to the fact that a vacancy existed and an invitation extended to qualified candidates to forward applications to the Selectmen's Office. A careful appraisal of the problem, however, also indicated the desirability of retaining a firm of placement consultants to evaluate and investigate the qualifications of prospective candidates and to procure candidates with the necessary talents on their own initiative for our consideration.

A discussion with The Finance Committee disclosed that its members concurred with our opinions on this matter, and, as a result, the sum of $5,000.00 was made available for this purpose.

After carefully exploring concerns engaged in this type of business, the firm of Thomas A. Buffam Associates, 44 School Street, Boston, was selected for this important assignment and, as we progressed in our subsequent discussions, we found their assistance to be invaluable from the standpoint of providing every imaginable detail on all candidates who were being seriously considered. A total of some fifty applications were received and processed. Through a rigid process of elimination this group was narrowed down to a half dozen candidates with above average qualifications.

Ultimately after carefully weighing all the attributes possessed by the finalists, Mr. Donald R. Marquis, Manager of Oberlin, Ohio, emerged as our top choice and was formally appointed on September 19, 1966, by a unanimous vote of the Board.

We firmly believe that we have made an excellent choice and look forward to an efficient, skillful and talented operation as he accustoms himself with Town personnel and institutes administrative procedures that will best benefit the Town.

The advent of Medicare excluded certain employees and retirees who had reached the age of sixty-five from participating in the employees Hospital.

Medical and Surgical group insurance benefits. In order that all those who were eligible for these benefits should be treated equitably, a plan termed Optional Medicare Extension was included in the contract for the persons in this age bracket who desired to enroll for these added benefits.

The Economic Opportunity Act passed by Congress in 1964 made Federal funds available for various programs designed to assist underprivileged members of the commmunity. A local council comprised of civic minded citizens banded together to form the Arlington Council of Economic Opportunity for the purpose of obtaining funds and initiating local programs. Since these programs require some contribution by the Town, the Committee through its by-laws is prevented from entering into any program until Town approval is procured. A program called "Head Start" has been in effect under the auspices of the School Committee for the past two years and is geared to provide educational assistance to young school children with linguistic problems. Undoubtedly there are many worthwhile programs that can be considered for approval as further funds become available and the Board will continue to work closely with this Council in considering suitable programs.

It became increasingly apparent early in the year that some action would have to be taken to regulate teenage dances in the Town. Several incidents involving popular musical groups and the so-called record hops conducted by popular radio personalities, attracted a great many out of Town youngsters, who because of limited space were not all admitted to these dances. This gave vent to disturbances and caused undesirable escapades which we felt could not be tolerated in our community. As a consequence, the Board in close cooperation with the Arlington Citizens for Youth, adopted stringent regulations for all such dances which are now a requisite before an entertainment license is granted. This policy has met with marked success and all such affairs which have been permitted have been conducted in an orderly and exemplary manner.

Under laws enacted by the General Court, Municipal Employees now have the right to bargain collectively with the Town on matters pertaining to wages and fringe benefits and are entitled to a written contract guaranteeing whatever has been mutually agreed to for a specified period of time. As of this writing, however, the only employees exercising their rights under this law are the School Teachers who are in negotiation with the School Committee.

A joint resolution passed by both houses of Congress, concedes that Arlington is the birthplace of Samuel Wilson, the progenitor of Uncle Sam. The Arlington Historical Committee, created by Town Meeting action in 1962, believing that the Town should capitalize on the prestige and publicity that this would bring the Town, advocated that a statue be erected in the Town Hall grounds depicting this personality and the national symbol he represented. Accordingly a competition was inaugurated among recognized sculptors for the submission of models of such a statue and some twelve or thirteen models were received. These were judged by a panel composed of outstanding authorities in this field, as well as laymen, who, after careful consideration, unanimously selected the work submitted by Theodore C. Barbarosa as the winning model. It is interesting to note that Mr. Barbarosa was a former student of Cyrus Dallin, Arlington's famous sculptor of another era. Brief exercises announcing this award were held in the Selectmen's Office in February.

The Committee is eager to launch a campaign for the necessary funds to make this statue a reality and we sincerely hope that when such a campaign is initiated the Town's citizens will respond generously to raise the $35,000.00, needed for this addition to the Town's rich historical heritage.

The controversial 3% limited sales tax, after extensive debate and several defeats, was finally enacted by the State and became law on April 1, 1966. This tax was designed to alleviate real estate taxes in cities and towns and distributions were based in part on an extremely complicated formula involving School expenditures and in part, on the valuation of the Town's Real and Personal Property, as adjusted by the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, in accordance with current full and fair market values. Accordingly municipalities that had high school costs and low valuations would receive the highest percentage of distribution.

In an effort to obtain greater distributions from this tax, we joined with a group of other communities who protested these adjusted valuations and entered an appeal with the State Appellate Tax Board for a lower valuation.

However, at a later date it was learned that consideration would not be given to appeals unless a differential of 10% or more was involved. Since the Town's appeal was based on a factor of between 2% and 3% we were advised it would not be considered by the Appellate Tax Board, and, as a result, the appeal was reluctantly withdrawn.

For several years there has been an increasing sentiment among many of our citizens who are interested in the youth of the Town, for the creation of a teenage drop-17 recreation program, which would be conducted several evenings each week during the months of July and August as a central gathering place for youngsters, with a variety of recreational outlets provided to keep them occupied.

A committee appointed by the Board has submitted its recommendations for such a program to be conducted under Town supervision with expenses to be shared by the participants and the Town.

At this writing the proposal is being studied by the Town Manager in conjunction with the Park Commissioners and if a favorable decision is reached a request for the necessary funds will be made at the 1967 Annual Town Meeting.

During the year hearings were granted to groups of citizens from all sections of the Town on complaints involving Air Pollution, Boating, Zoning Violations, Mass Transportation. Traffic Control and general pedestrian hazards. We gave these matters our undivided attention in an effort to arrive at equitable solutions. In some cases it was impossible to provide immediate relief because of legal considerations, however, every possible means at our disposal has been utilized in minimizing or in eliminating any and all conditions involving substantiated inequities. In this manner we attempt to maintain current standards which the Town enjoys as a residential community.

In our functions as a Board of Survey we developed a street construction program by the acceptance and construction of private ways, a street improvement program with the use of funds allotted by the State under the provisions of Chapter 679 of the Acts of 1965, as well as the usual Chapter 90 program for the improvement of public ways, 75% of which is financed by an allotment of funds from the State and County. The customary program for the installation of permanent sidewalks and granite edgestones was continued with the Town assuming one-half the cost of such installations as provided by law. The program for improvements to the Town's storm drain system was also continued.

Some of our other duties as a Board of Survey involve the approval of street lines and grades on new streets and changes in lines and grades on streets which had been previously approved; we adopt orders of taking for various easements involving street construction and the installation of underground structures; we license contractors to perform installations on public ways; grant locations for utility poles, conduits and gas mains; grant and renew permits for advertising signs; levy betterment assessments and grant abatements where warranted and determine improvements to the street lighting system.

One of our more important functions has involved the widening and improvement of Route 2 as a limited access highway. This proposal which has entailed the taking of property and the dispossession of families has, at times, been an extremely sensitive subject, particularly when we found ourselves in the position of being mediators between affected citizens and State Authorities. We hope that at this writing all problems have been satisfactorily resolved since these improvements are scheduled for construction in 1967.

In connection with this program an agreement has been reached for providing street lighting on the frontage roads which will flank the expressway and the Town has agreed to assume ownership of a pedestrian sidewalk which is planned along the shores of Spy Pond, between Pleasant Street and Lake Street. We have also received assurance that the shores of Spy Pond, that are disturbed, will be suitably landscaped and existing trees will be replaced.

As a Board of Public Works we exercise powers as Road Commissioners, Water Commissioners and Sewer Commissioners and thereby are charged with the responsibility of adopting orders of taking, authorizing the installation of underground structures, the levying of betterment assessments, the abatement of betterment assessments, the appointment of licensed drain layers and the determination of policy on the disposal of wastes and the removal of snow and ice.

Several years ago it was determined that the Metropolitan sanitary outlet sewer had exceeded its capacity to service communities to the north of Arlington. Consequently, legislative action was instituted to provide authorization for a relief sewer. This was eventually accomplished and, at this writing, construction is in process to install a parallel line to the existing sewer. When completed this facility will provide the required capacity to service all communities affected and will thereby eliminate any danger of a health problem in Arlington.

A State Plumbing Code recently adopted by the State providing for uniform regulations for the installation of sanitary fixtures throughout the Commonwealth, became effective and supplants the local code formerly in use. So far as we have been able to ascertain this will have no adverse affect upon the Town.

The Town of Lexington has, for a number of years, displayed an unusual interest in the tract of land in Lexington known as the Great Meadows and has advocated its use for recreational purposes. Joint meetings have been held with the Lexington Selectmen and a Joint Committee appointed to determine the best use for this property. The Committee in its initial report recommends a professional survey to determine such use. Further conferences will be held and the possibility of some satisfactory solution, although not apparent at this time, may be realized.

In concluding this report, we would like to express our sincere appreciation to both Town Managers, to the various Boards and Commissions who have contributed their talents to Town affairs and to our Secretary and the office staff for the efficient and dedicated service they have rendered in our behalf.

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Report of the Town Manager

January 27, 1967

The Honorable Board of Selectmen
Robbins Memorial Town Hall
Arlington, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

On November 2, 1966, I assumed my duties as Arlington's second town manager. I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the members of the Board of Selectmen for their interest and confidence in my training and qualifications. It is indeed an honor to have been chosen to serve as town manager for Arlington, and you can be assured that everything will be done to give the citizens an efficient, honest, and responsive local government.

The budget and all other appropriation articles are designed to reflect our total service program for 1967. We wish to emphasize that budget preparation is the most important administrative function performed. If government is to operate efficiently, it is essential that we have good budget preparation and control. Again this year, departmental requests were critically reviewed not only by the manager but also by the board of selectmen and the finance committee; all justifications were made in writing. Evaluation and analysis of all requests were made in terms of priorities and what goals and programs the town wished to accomplish.

The total recommended budget for 1967 as submitted to the selectmen on December 1, 1966, excluding all other warrant articles, amounted to $12,806,780.48. This represented an increase of $948,490.96 or 8% over the 1966 budget appropriations. The school department request (46% of the total budget) was $5,879,341.00, representing an increase of $725,751.58 or 14% over the 1966 appropriation. All other departmental requests amounted to $6,927,439.48, representing an increase of $222,739.38 or 3.3% over the 1966 requests. By comparison, last year's departmental requests, excluding the school department, amounted to $6,459,549.80, an increase of $227,464.62 or 3.7% over the 1965 request. Therefore, the manager's percent of increase for 1967 is lower than that of 1966 by .04%. Also, it should be noted that our free-cash is $141,534.61 lower this year than it was last year; however, it is projected that our state aid will be substantially higher this year than it was in 1966.

This year's recommended salary increase for all employees is higher than that of previous years. We are grateful to the members of the personnel board, finance committee, and board of selectmen, for their understanding and support in this vital area. In order to keep our salary schedule competitive and to improve our capacity to recruit and retain qualified employees, especially in the police department, it is imperative that we maintain our relative pay position with other public and private employers in the area. It is nevertheless incumbent upon us to keep our total request for salary increases at a level which is equitable to the taxpayers as well as to the employees. We believe this year's request meets these two requirements. Our present employee turnover, with the exception of the police department, is relatively low. We wish to take steps now to insure that this fine record will continue in the future.

With our payroll expenditure increasing with each passing year, it seems apparent that new procedures must be followed to insure that only those employees who warrant salary increases receive them. We suggest, therefore, that salary increases be granted based on merit and performance, recognizing that an across-the-board increase may be necessary to compensate for cost of living increases.

We will continue to strive for high quality of service in all departments. The quality of service can always be improved in many ways at little or no additional cost to the taxpayers. Merely increasing the quantity of our personnel, however, does not in itself improve the quality of service. It is in this vein that we would like to formulate and implement a comprehensive in-service training program for all employees. At the present time, approximately 60% of our total budget goes for payroll-a substantial amount. Therefore, it seems logical to us that a good training program to insure proper development of all employees would be proper and prudent. We intend to encourage greater self-improvement this year and to ask for a larger expenditure in the 1968 budget for in-service training.

This year we plan to review, and revise where necessary, our comprehensive community plan. We hope to do this in a manner that will enable as many people as possible to express their views and opinion regarding this important document. In addition, we are preparing a workable program - a prerequisite for most federal financial assistance - which will be submitted to the federal government for certification as soon as possible. It appears obvious that proper long range planning will have to be stressed and emphasized more in the future than it has been in the past. It is not enough to prepare master plans; they must be prepared in an atmosphere of participation and understanding, making the implementation of such plans more realistic. It is our desire to encourage broad participation in the area of long range planning, hoping that the end result will reflect as much as possible a unified voice of views and vision.

It appears that the town's present sanitary land-fill facilities will not last longer than three more years. It is imperative that we start now to plan for the future regarding proper refuse disposal. We have asked the Metropolitan Area Planning Council for suggestions and guidance and our own planning and public works departments for recommendations regarding this important community facility. We will submit specific recommendations to you as soon as possible in order that they may be considered by the 1968 town meeting members. Also, it is felt that our total community services can be improved. We plan to suggest and recommend, during the year, some proposals in the area of public health and safety. In addition, we intend to explore the possibility of electronic data processing in the area of billing and payroll. Other office procedures, such as, duplicating and copying will be reviewed and updated as soon as possible.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the members of the board of selectmen for their assistance and guidance since I became town manager. The programs and projects in our 1967 budget can be realized only through the cooperative and coordinated efforts of many people, specifically, the selectmen, boards and commissions, citizen advisory groups, town meeting members, town manager, department heads, employees, and finally the citizens. It is hoped that this high degree of interest and determination will continue to prevail in the years to come.

For detailed information regarding the functions and activities of all departments for the year ending December 31, 1966, we refer you to the remainder of this annual report.

Respectfully submitted,

Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager

Report of the Tree Warden and Superintendent of the Moth and Town House Grounds Department

DEPARTMENTS

Mr. Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Massachusetts

Dear Sir:

I herewith submit the report of the Tree, Moth and Town House Grounds Departments for the year ending December 31, 1966:

TREE DEPARTMENT

We continued our diversified planting program on public ways with the object of spreading our shade tree investment over several species, thus lessening the possible loss to any one disease. We planted 340 trees on public ways as part of our regular street tree planting program. Among these were Plane trees, Lindens, Maples, Hackberrys, Hawthorns and two species of flowering Cherries.

Our Fall planting of Business Districts continued as in 1964 and 1965. 9 Emerald Queen Maples were planted on Medford Street between Broadway and Compton Street and 11 Columnar Maples were planted on Broadway and Franklin Street to Medford Street. All trees were planted in holes cut out of the sidewalk surface in this heavily congested district Streets constructed or accepted in 1965 were planted with new trees as were Mystic Street and Lake Street, which were rebuilt under Chapter 90 work. 165 trees were planted on new and rebuilt streets. In addition 175 trees were planted as replacements or upon individual request on our other public ways as needed.

The Tree Department participated in the beautification of the area at the corner of Mystic Street and Massachusetts Avenue, voted at the March Town Meeting. Numerous large trees were planted as proposed by the Planning Board plan. Among the large trees were: 4 Norway Maples, 4" in diameter at the trunk; 1 Pin Oak, 8" in diameter; 2 Columnar Sugar Maples, 5" in diameter; 1 Norway Maple, 10" in diameter; 1 Norway Maple, 5" in diameter; 1 Linden, 7" in diameter; and 1 Flowering Crabapple tree. Several large trees weighing up to five ton were moved with the assistance of the Public Works Department heavy equipment. Several of the aforementioned trees were moved from other areas of town; namely, the Lowell Street Chapter 90 Project (3), and the large 10" Norway Maple from the Robbins Nursery area. This tree was previously salvaged from the Pleasant Street widening project several years ago. As part of this same improvement program shrub beds were increased in size and an additional 65 flowering and evergreen shrubs were planted. These included Hemlocks, various species of Azaleas, Rhododendrons, Cotoneasters, Junipers and Euyonomus plants.

To supplement our Business District and Beautification plantings in Arlington Center we were fortunate enough to receive permission from the State to transplant several large deciduous and evergreen trees from the property acquired for the Route 2 expansion. We transplanted 2 large Columnar Sugar Maples (8" in diameter) to the triangle at Fire Dept. Headquarters; 1 large Blue Spruce to the Mystic St. Islands; and a large (6" in diameter) Sugar Maple to the Town House Grounds. These trees weighed approximately five tons each, and the Public Works Dept. heavy equipment assisted in the moving. We also transplanted several smaller Spruce to our nursery area from this same area.

Eleven large trees were ordered removed by the Selectmen for the construction of streets, sidewalks or other necessary reasons at: Lowell Street Chapter 90 Project (8); 49 Norfolk Road; 15 Howard Street; and 10 Farmer Road. Additional trees were removed for construction of storm drains at the Reservoir Area; the Hibbert Street Park; and the Summer Street Landfill area as requested by the Department Heads.

Public Hearings were held for the removal of trees at: 56 Randolph Street; 63 Brattle Street; 52 Palmer Street; 90 Everett Street; 90 George Street; 3 Wyman Terrace and 44 Ridge Street. As no objections arose these trees were removed at the expense of the petitioner.

Various trees were removed, pruned, sprayed and otherwise maintained for the Park, School, Cemetery and Public Works Departments upon request of the Department Heads. The removal of large diseased or damaged trees in Menotomy Rocks Park, trees hindering Public Works Department construction and landfill operations formed the bulk of this work.

Numerous Elm trees, both private and public, were sampled for Dutch Elm Disease; six public and two private trees showed positive results. This is a marked increase over past years. Many of the infected trees were weakened by drought, paving the way for the insect and fungi infection. Many Elm samples, due to the dehydrated condition of the trees, did not reflect the true cause of death.

The Utility Companies hired contractors to remove the tops of 14 large trees with their wires going through them. Our Department removed the debris from this work and the remainder of the various trees, including the stumps.

Though not as severe as in past years, the deficiency in rainfall continued to cause serious problems to our already weakened shade trees. We continued to lose trees to secondary diseases which were brought by the past years' droughts. The most seriously affected trees are the Sugar Maples which continue a steady decline not only in Arlington but in the whole Northeast area of the country. The main source of water available to the tree roots is ground water, or the so called water table. This remains seriously low and has not returned to adequate levels.

In the past year we have removed 209 trees from public property in Arlington, 93 of these were over 12" in diameter. Of the 106 smaller trees many were in the 2" to 3" range and the major causes of loss were: drought, vandalism, and automobile injury.

The major causes of loss of our larger trees continue to be the four serious fungi diseases of Heartwood Rot, Maple Die Back, Verticillium Wilt and Dutch Elm Disease.

The following is a breakdown of the major reasons for tree removal in 1966:

1. Maple Die Back (20)

   This disease infects Sugar Maples seriously, Norway Maples and Elms less severely. This relatively new disease is very slow working and is becoming more serious every year.

2. Heartwood Rot (16)

   This disease in its many forms is capable of infecting almost all species of trees with fast growing species such as Silver Maple, Norway Maple and Willow most susceptible.

3. Verticillium Wilt (15)

   This vascular disease infects mainly Norway Maples, with the number of Norway Maples on our streets this disease has the most dangerous potential in our Town.

4. Dutch Elm Disease (11)

   Infects American and English Elms.

5. Canker Diseases (8)

   Capable of infecting many species of trees, usually through mechanical injury in the trunk.

6. Root Diseases (2)

   A soil-born disease usually associated with poor environmental conditions.

7. Drought (19 small trees)

   Affects all species and is clearly shown in the rapid dehydration of young, vigorous trees

Followed in a lesser degree by mechanical injury, storm damage, adverse environmental conditions and other more specific fungus diseases.

The stumps of trees over 3" in diameter were cut with the Vemeer Stump Cutter and all smaller trees were dug out roots and all. Useable woodchips from our stump removal operations were stockpiled and used as a mulch as needed.

Our maintenance program continued with the pruning and treating of all the trees on 48 public ways during the year. All dead and dangerous limbs and any low limbs possible obstructing the passage of vehicular and foot traffic were removed from all the trees on these streets. Many individual requests for maintenance were received and taken care of by this Department. Our new Skyworker increased our program on large trees materially.

Tree limbs were trimmed for better vision of street lights, traffic lights and traffic signs upon request of the Wire Department and the Police Department.

Several houses were moved from Route 2 to various locations throughout the Town. Young trees were transplanted to allow for the passage of these houses and numerous trees were trimmed or tied back where necessary. All routes were approved by this Department and all work was done at the mover's expense.

Christmas trees were removed throughout the Town with brush chippers.

The personnel and equipment of this Department assisted the Public Works Dept. throughout the year when called upon to do so.

The Boston Edison Company and New England Telephone Company tree contractors cleared all the utility lines in the Town. All work specifications were set by this Department and the crews were inspected daily.

As in the past we continued our watering program of all the newly planted trees and all the trees in business districts. We used our 275 gallon tank and our 400 gallon hydraulic sprayer. A special power injector gun was used to force the water deeper around tree roots, etc.

We continued using the woodchip by-product of our stump removal and chipper operations as a mulch on young trees and shrubs. Over 70 yards of woodchip mulch was used this year.

MOTH DEPARTMENT

All employees involved in the application of pesticides are licensed by the Mass. Pesticide Board. These licenses cover the application of insecticides, herbicides, fungicides, and other related material on both the supervisory and applicator level.

In keeping with the recommendations of the Massachusetts Pesticide Board and the University of Mass., all trees on public property in the Town were sprayed when and where necessary. As in the past several years, insecticides with short term residual effects were used whenever possible.

Our dormant spray program, to control the Elm Bark Beetle, the vector of Dutch Elm Disease, took place in mid-April. 2,975 gallons of insecticide were sprayed on all Elms on public property within the Town.

All Elm, Willow, Plane trees and other necessary trees were treated with a leaf spray to control defoliating insects such as: Elm Leaf Beetle, Willow Beetle, Leaf Miners, Aphids, and Leafhoppers. 4,400 gallons of insecticide mixture was used in this operation.

Other pests including Tent Caterpillars, Rose Chafers, Canker Worms, Leaf Miners, Borers, Carpenter Ants and lesser pests were sprayed when necessary throughout the year. Spray formulations of Methoxychlor, Lindane, Sevin, Chlordane, DDT and Pyrethrum were used to control these insects.

As usual the build-up of insects in the late Summer called for several spot treatments in the affected areas. Aphids were a particular problem late in the year; these were treated with Thiodan, a very effective pesticide against aphids. We also treated several Hawthorn, Maple, and Crabapple trees with fungicide to control leaf diseases.

Poison Ivy and other noxious weeds were sprayed with 2-4-D, 2-4-5, T, and Amino Triazole herbicides at 20 locations throughout the Town and at the Great Meadows in Lexington. Several heavy infestations previously treated in 1965 were re-treated for minor growth this year. Over 600 gallons of herbicide mixture was used on this project.

Bees' and hornets' nests were sprayed or cut down when called to our attention.

The park area at the Town Hall, Robbins House and Library was sprayed completely once to control leaf feeding insects. Individual treatments were given to control borers, bark beetles, aphids, fungi and other pests as needed throughout the year.

We encountered a severe scale infestation early in the year in this area. It was treated with dormant oil and follow-up sprays of Malathion to bring it under control.

Due to dry conditions, Wilt-Pruf, an anti-dessicant, was applied to our young trees and shrubs planted recently in all areas to control loss of water from these young plants.

Fourteen times throughout the summer we assisted the Public Works Department by spraying the landfill area on Summer Street with disinfectant and insecticide. A total of fourteen applications were made as needed from June 21 to Oct. 14. 3,950 gallons of pesticide and disinfectant mixture was used in these operations.

TOWN HOUSE GROUNDS

As in the past, the personnel of the Tree and Moth Departments maintained the areas at the Town House Grounds, the lawn and shrub areas of the islands on Mystic Street, the Municipal Parking Lots and the Police Station.

The pool at the Town House Grounds was repaired and painted as usual with Blue Silasheen paint.

The flagpole at the Town Hall was scraped and painted.

The regular maintenance of the grounds was carried on as usual with the application of 4,000 lbs. of dry fertilizer, 200 lbs. of lime and several spot treatments of liquid fertilizer. 600 sq. ft. of sod was replaced on the oval at the Town House Grounds. The lawns and shrub beds were trimmed and cared for as needed and an additional 20 yards of woodchip mulch was used throughout the year. 300 lbs. of 5% Chlordane dust was applied to part of the lawn areas to protect against Japanese Beetle grubs.

Several specimen trees, damaged by ice and snowstorms, were braced and bolted. All shrubs and trees were fertilized with either dry fertilizer or Rapid-Gro, a liquid fertilizer sprayed on the crowns. Deciduous evergreens in the area of the ornamental pool were treated with chelated iron.

All Dogwood trees were painted with a mixture of wound dressing and insecticide to control borers. Several shrub beds were renovated by the removal of old overgrown plants and replacement with deciduous evergreen shrubs.

The following is a list of the trees and shrubs planted at the Town House Grounds this year. Several of these were transplanted from our nursery area at Symmes Hill on Summer Street:

1 Redbud tree
9 Hawthorn trees
1 Barberry
3 Taxus densiforma
2 Pfitzer Juniper
3 Sargent Cherry - Town House Grounds
2 Sargent Cherry - Police Station
10 Lecouthoe
5 Azalea
5 Viburnum Carlesi
7 Flowering Almond
40 Rock Cotoneaster

3 Forsythia
10 Euyonomus
2 Crabapple trees
6 Hybrid Rhododendron
3 Azalea kampheri
1 7" in diameter Sugar Maple tree

The steep embankment at the Winslow Street parking lot was planted with 17 Forsythia shrubs and two white ash trees. Due to the severe slope and lack of watering facilities this area continues to be a problem. Additional shrubbery will be planted on this embankment in 1967.

A watchman was employed during the Summer to patrol the Town Hall Grounds every evening and on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays. He also checked the Robbins Library on weekends.

Snow removal from all the pedestrian areas of the Town Hall and Robbins House was taken care of as usual. All areas including paths, parking lots and roadways were sanded when necessary.

In conclusion I wish to thank you, the members of your Department, the personnel of the Tree Department and all other Departments of the Town.

Respectfully submitted,

Frank P. Wright
Tree Warden
Superintendent of Moth Department and Town House Grounds Department

Annual Report of the Park Commission

January 5, 1967

Mr. Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Marquis:

We, herewith, submit the annual report of the Arlington Park and Recreation Department for the year ending December 31. 1966. The Board of Park Commissioners expresses its sincere appreciation to the Town Manager, the Honorable Board of Selectmen and all branches of our Town government for their co-operation, understanding and support in the promotion of a sound, progressive and ever-expanding program.

The Board held its organizational meeting on Monday, January 17, 1966, and elected John W. Walsh, III, Chairman.

Mr. Frederick R. Buckley, Jr. who had been appointed to fill vacancy created by his uncle, Edward D. Buckley's death, resigned after eighteen months of faithful and conscientious service on March 14, 1966. He had been elected to serve on the Arlington Housing Authority.

Mr. Lawrence R. Babine was appointed to the Park Commission on March 21, 1966 to fill out the unexpired term of Frederick R. Buckley, Jr.

GENERAL MAINTENANCE

The entire maintenance staff consisted of eleven men as of December 31, 1966. During the year there were several injuries and two transfers. Replacement personnel was selected from the Civil Service lists and they were carefully screened before employment. The maintenance force was also on call for work in cases of emergency due to snow storms and other storm damage.

A summary of service for school use of grounds indicates the amount of maintenance work which was done for the whole community and not just for the Recreation Department, as such:

Baseball:	16 A.Y.A. teams
	1 American Legion team
	12 Little League teams
	20 Little League (Minors) teams
	7 School teams
Tennis:	3 School teams
Track:	1 High School team
Football:	14 School teams
	1 Pop Warner League team

In addition, the maintenance force maintains all grounds for public use and organized league play by the Recreation Department.

The Department must give serious consideration to the need for rebuilding the Warren A. Peirce Gridiron as the center of this area is seeded every year and does not stand up under the heavy play. We recommend that this particular gridiron be sodded which would more than pay for itself in labor costs for four or five years.

The Department also maintains 22 flower beds throughout the town.

We also flooded five areas such as: Waldo Road, Parallel Street, Robbins, North Union and Grove Street, but due to inclement weather we only had eight days of skating this year. We again would like to recommend an artificial indoor arena for the residents of Arlington.

MAINTENANCE

New Equipment

Six new vandal proof frames for portable picnic tables were constructed which were also used for Arts and Crafts during the summer playground program. These frames were made of 3/8" steel stock and were welded together.

Constructed 24 Nok-Hockey games which were used in our recreation program.Games valued at $18.00 each.

Installed steel fireplaces at Florence Avenue, Robbins Farm, North Union Street playground, and two at Menotomy Rocks Park.

Reservoir Field

Roof was repaired by our maintenance men.

Twelve hockey goals made of 2" x1'x6' planks and used on the multi-use areas at Bishop School, Crosby School, Hardy School, Robbins Farm, Summer Street and Parallel Street. Two hockey backstops were also erected in the parking lot in the rear of the high school. These goals proved very popular and helped keep down property damage.

Ethel Wellington

Marked tennis courts after they were resurfaced.

Warren A. Peirce Field

Installed underground wires to operate scoreboard. 600 feet of trench was dug to the press box from scoreboard. Work was done in co-operation with the School Department, and contributions from the 1966 graduating class.

Chain link fence replaced around basketball court, 220 lineal feet of #9 guage, 9 feet high. Public Works Department labor erected the fabric; Park Department men removed the old fabric.

Painted two baseball backstops.

Reservoir Beach

An expenditure of $800.00 was spent in an effort to destroy the algae in the water. This was done in an effort to clear the water, prevent weed growth, and have better swimming conditions. To complete the job, another spraying will be done in early Spring. This work was done by the Allied Biological Control Corporation of Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts.

Capital Outlay Expenditures:

Crosby School

Tennis courts were sealcoated at an expenditure of $2,995.00.

Spy Pond Grandstand

One-half of grandstand repaired at a cost of $6,816.00; the other half will be completed this coming year.

Reservoir Beach

Roof of bathhouse was repaired, toilet partitions replaced, and building painted. $1,219.00 was expended.

North Union

Repaired the wading pool, sealing cracks at a cost of $600.00. The entire pool must be sealed and resurfaced this coming year.

Hibbert Street

Play apparatus was installed with Park Department labor. Cost of apparatus $1,290.00. Public Works Department graded and installed a blacktop basketball court. We have erected basketball posts and backstops and will mark the court and seed the area in the Spring of 1967. $14,081 was appropriated to develop area.

Summer Playground Program

The total attendance figure for the 1966 season was 92,956 as compared to the 1965 figure of 100,967 and the 1964 figure of 78,115. The leaders in attendance were: North Union, 11,887, Summer, 7,727, Florence, 7,261, and Cutter 7,090.

The playgrounds were officially opened on June 27. The schedule called for operation at seventeen areas with full time supervision morning and afternoon. A pre-training organizational meeting was held at the high school on June 23 and 24. This pre-training meeting was for information and instructional purposes as to organization, responsibility and program management. The classes were conducted by department personnel for the second year and proved highly successful. Immediately following these meetings, the leader in charge of each playground received an issue of playground equipment valued at more than $300.00 for use on his playground.

The following descriptive list indicates the span of our summer program:

Baseball:

Pee Wee

Age Group:	Under 10
Program:	10 game schedule
Teams:	15
Participation:	246 boys

Midget

Age Group:	10 to 12
Program:	12 game schedule
Teams:	13
Participation:	235 boys

Juniors

Age Group:	12 to 16
Program:	8 game schedule
Teams:	10
Participation:	172 boys

The overall program worked out very smoothly even though there were only nine boy instructors. The umpiring assignments and game duties were adequately covered and the games progressed with a minimum of arguments and protested games. A new rule, which gave the instructor-umpire the authority to assess an abusive team, served to diminish the usual squabbles.

Arts and Crafts

The Arts and Crafts program for 1966 proved to be a very rewarding and enjoyable season for both the children and the supervisors. Each year we try to add new ideas to make the program varied, pleasant, and rewarding for each child.

Workshop: The main objective of this year's workshop was to allow the leaders to work with the actual materials which they would be working with throughout the summer. Materials were discussed and hints on their various uses were given by former leaders. The workshop was then broken into groups.

A suggestion list for the first week was given to each leader and the crafts on list were made. This allowed the leaders to work with the materials and also gave them an opportunity to make their samples.

Schedule: This year, the Arts and Crafts supervisors visited all seventeen playgrounds within a four day period, Monday through Thursday. Friday morning from 10:00 to 11:30 A.M. they visited the program for Retarded Children at the Parmenter School; Friday afternoon from 1:00 to 3:00 P.M., Advanced Classes for girls 9 years to 13 years of age were held.

Each week a different Arts and Crafts project was introduced to the children. Following is a list of the craft projects given to the children over the seven week period:

June 27 - July 1	Indian Week	Indian belts, rings and bracelets
July 5 - July 8	Presidential Week	Models of our presidents
July 11 - July 15	Olympic Week	Mosaic tile ash trays
July 18 - July 22	International Week	Shell jewelry
July 25 - July 29	Carnival Week	Animal Mobiles
August 1 - August 5	Gemini Week	Book-Ends
August 8 - August 12	Tournament Week	Popsicle stick craft

Along with these individual craft projects each week, we had a project that covered the six week period. The project was yarn pocketbooks this year. Each girl purchased rug yarn individually selecting her own color. The child weaved her own pattern using a cardboard form to hold the pattern together. When the weaving was finished the cardboard was removed and a zipper and handles were put in.

Girls' Softball

The softball program was very active this summer for the junior teams. This league was composed of girls 8 to 14 years of age. The senior league was for girls 14 years or older. The division between leagues was also based on ability and skill. The program was described at the Institute along with an outline of the rules that are used. A question and answer period was held after the second day of the Institute.

During the first week, the various parks set to organizing teams. In the West, five junior teams were organized which included: Summer, Florence, Robbins, Menotomy and Locke. In the East, eight teams were organized: Hardy, Linwood, Thorndike, Waldo, Parallel, Bishop, Crosby and North Union. Schedules were made with most of the games scheduled to be played on Tuesday and Thursday at 1:30 P.M. in the West, and 2:30 P.M. in the East. On Monday and Wednesday, senior games were scheduled at 2:00 P.M. There were four senior teams: Pheasant, Cutter, Summer and Florence.

A playoff game for town champions in the junior division was played on August 12, between North Union and Robbins. North Union took the honors home on that day.

Archery

Classes commenced on June 29 and continued in the following pattern throughout the eight weeks: Monday and Wednesday - High School Field; Tuesday and Thursday, Spy Pond Field; Friday - Menotomy Rocks Park. Lessons started at 9:30 and concluded at 11:30 A.M. After the general safety and skills of archery were taught and practiced for two weeks, the tournament shooting for weekly high scorer began. The top two or three scorers received ribbons. At the end of the sixth week, a qualifying meet was held at each area to get the top four boys from each area to enter into a Round-Robin Tournament for the determining of the trophy winners on Final Day.

Tennis

The total enrollment for the tennis program was seventy students: Wellington 26, Robbins Farm 34, Crosby 10. These children ranged in age from 8 to 16 years. The students were separated in two different classes according to sex and skill. The schedule generally followed was:

Courts	Girls	Boys	Advanced
Wellington	9:30-10:30 A.M.	10:30 - 11:30 A.M.	11:30 - 12:00 Noon
Robbins Farm	1:00-2:00 P.M.	2:15 - 3:15 P.M.
Crosby	3:30-4:30 P.M.

In the beginner classes, main emphasis was placed on proper stroke production and hand-eye coordination. The advanced groups were given three half-hour lessons per week. These lessons were on court strategy and tactics with some discussion on the serve and proper sportsmanship.

At the close of the season, a tournament was held for all the beginner students. Trophies were awarded in six categories: Best Player, boys and girls; Most Improved Players, boys and girls; and Most Enthusiastic boys and girls.

Twilight Summer Basketball

The boys' basketball league began June 28 and concluded August 11. In this seven week program 8 teams, 6 from Arlington High and 2 from Arlington Catholic, consisting of one hundred and seventy boys, competed every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 8:00 to 10:00 P.M., under the lights at Warren A. Peirce Field. Two All-Star games with Concord highlighted the program.

This program devised to engender an interest in the game and to encourage participating in athletics generally, acted also as a deterrent to unwholesome and unlawful activities during the long summer nights.

Although the number of boys taking part in the program this year decreased from last season, we feel confident that the program in the future will expand and develop.

Reservoir Beach

Reservoir Beach located in Arlington Heights offered swimming facilities and instructions to all of Arlington's residents. Five thousand residents were registered this season with facilities available daily from 10:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M. Swimming classes were held twice a day at 11:00 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. for four weeks and they were followed up by a week of testing. After the period of testing, a certificate issued by the American National Red Cross was given to each child who fulfilled requirements in a particular class. The primary aim was to teach the child safety in the water and to help the non or weak swimmer develop skills in swimming. This year, residents were very fortunate to have two Water Safety Instructors. These young men were sent to the Red Cross Aquatic School by the Park and Recreation Department and were certified to teach and issue certificates for swimming and life-saving.

The following number of certificates were issued by the Red Cross:

Class	Number in Class	Number Taking Test	Number Passed
Beginner	50	35	29
Advanced Beginner	60	27	24
Intermediate	40	20	20
Junior Life-saving	20	12	8
	170	94	81

Retarded Children's Program

The fourth season of the summer program for the mentally retarded began its activities on June 27. This program was held on the Parmenter School grounds and was sponsored by the Park and Recreation Department in cooperation with the Arlington Chapter of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children.

The purpose of the program was to provide creative, interesting, and helpful activities for the special child to participate in. He must have an active life to help develop his coordination which often is poor and needs a program to provide activities which involves him in every day situations so he will be able, some day, to perform simple tasks on his own.

Once a week, a field trip was scheduled for the children. Every child had the opportunity to go, with the parents' permission. Four of the eight field trips took them to Nahant Beach. The remaining excursions were diversified: A Red Sox ball game, a trip to Drumlin Farm, a visit to Pleasure Island, and a last week trip to Marshfield where they went swimming and had a cook-out.

Twice, during the duration of the program, the supervisor of tennis taught the children to play the game. However, the children had more fun chasing the tennis balls than learning how to swing the tennis racket.

During the last week of the program our children visited the Somerville facilities. Besides playing games, singing songs, and seeing three movies, the children seemed to enjoy meeting new people.

Following are fall, winter and spring programs:

week round-robin schedule of games with eight teams in the league. Thursday night, November 10, this department hosted a Sports-Refreshment Night for some 450 members of the Flag Football Program and their parents. James Colclough, ace end for the Boston Patriots, was guest speaker. Film strips featuring cartoons and highlights of the Boston Patriots prefaced the refreshment period which terminated the evening. Our third annual championship game was played on Veterans' Day between the Hardy Colts and the Cutter-Parmenter Bears at Warren A. Peirce Field.

Eligibility extended only to those boys of high school age who were in no way connected with varsity basketball. After two rounds of scheduled play the first five teams entered an elimination tournament to determine the championship.

On Friday evening, March 11, the department held a Sports Night at which trophies were awarded to the championship team. All the sponsored teams in the league donated the money which made the event possible. The "affair concluded the refreshments.

The league was divided into two divisions, Pee Wee and Bantam, with four teams of 12 to 15 boys in each division.

There were six areas that participated in this program. These areas were scattered throughout the town in order to accommodate all sections of the Town.

Competent college students instructed the girls in arts and crafts. At least one project was planned for each Saturday morning session. In addition to arts and crafts, the girls participated in a wide variety of games with volley ball and dodge ball being the most popular.

One of the highlights of the winter program was the trip to the M.D.C. Skating Rink in Belmont. The Saturday morning arts and crafts program was a wonderful opportunity for 4th, 5th and 6th grade girls, to acquire both skills and friendship.

Program:	Men's Physical Fitness
Time:	7:00 to 10:00 P.M. - Tuesday and Thursday
Place:	Arlington High Freshman Gymnasium
Date:	November through March
Participation:	32 per class

This department encouraged by the promising turnout last year continued for the fourth year a Men's Physical Fitness Club. There were three general types of exercises: warmup exercises, conditioning exercises, and circulatory activities. Each man proceeded at his own pace, competing with himself rather than with anyone else - this was of great importance for sound conditioning.

Place:	Arlington High Freshman Gymnasium
Date:	November through March
Participation:	48 per class

This was a new program that had been requested by many of the women of the community. These women had not engaged in consistent, vigorous, all-round physical activity, even though in housework or other daily routines, some muscles had been put to extensive use.

Classes started with an orientation or "get-set" series of exercises allowing all major muscles to be put to use easily and painlessly. There were then five graded levels. As women moved from one to the next, they were building toward a practical and satisfying level of fitness. By building gradually, and progressively, they will be building soundly.

This program, in its second year of existence, continued to be a tremendous success. The league consisted of eight teams composed of girls in the 7th and 8th grades, in both public and parochial schools. The coaches of these teams, all college students, have a close community background with Arlington. As a fitting climax to the end of the Park League season, all participants were guests at a barbecue. Awards were presented to the winning team; however, each girl was a winner in her own right, for each personified the high standards of competitive sports.

No dues were charged for membership and anyone over 62 years of age was eligible. The active membership has grown to 300 persons. Trips sponsored by the department were well attended by members seeking friendship and recreation. On some occasions, as many as three buses were rented to transport them to the Ice Capades; Ice Follies; an old fashioned Clambake in Billerica; a Rockport Outing with lunch at Peg-Legs Restaurant; a foliage trip to Rindge, New Hampshire, stopping for a delicious lunch at the Turkey Farm in Nashua; baseball fans saw seven Red Sox ball games. During the year, a luncheon and the Annual Banquet was held at Fellowship Hall.

Annual Report of Inspector of Animals

January 10, 1967

Town Manager
Arlington,
Massachusetts

Dear Sir:

The following is the annual report of the Inspector of Animals with a brief description of his duties:

The position of Inspector of Animals was established by the legislature of the Comm. of Mass., Chapter 129 of the General Laws. The duties of the Inspector are detailed in this chapter.

The original intent and indeed still the most important facet of the law was to protect the public against infection from rabid dogs. Tuberculosis, Undulent fever, certain diseases disseminated by hogs are guarded against by the Inspector, these are no longer a threat in Arlington. Psiticosis (Parrot Fever), Ringworm and other skin diseases are of more or less importance in their contagion from animal to man.

The bite of a rabid animal can be fatal to a human. The infective virus can be carried in the saliva of the dog, and is transferred to a human via a bite. Cats to a much lesser extent can be vectors. Recently rodents, skunks, fox and here in Mass. the bat have become sources of infection.

The law requires all physicians to report a dog biting incident to the Board of Health, actually he should report all bites regardless of species of animal. The Board of Health notifies the inspector who is required to quarantine the animal at the home of the owner or other secure place as is agreeable. This animal is kept under restraint for a period of ten days. If no symptoms of rabies develop in this period the animal is released from quarantine. A copy of the forms used are enclosed.

There were a total of 168 persons bitten in Arlington during the year 1966. When an animal dies after biting before the quarantine period is over it is necessary to remove the head and take it to the Wasserman Laboratory in Jamaica Plain. Here the brain is examined for the presence of Nigri Bodies which are indicative of the presence of rabies, and by animal inoculation to prove the diagnosis. There were four such cases during the past year. By good fortune none of the animals examined and quarantined were rabid. Indeed, it has been some years since there has been a case of rabies in Arlington. Nevertheless the encroachment in the State of Mass. from out of state domestic and wild life, and bats here in the state infected with the disease makes us extremely vulnerable. This necessitates a state of constant watchfulness. It would be best to give as widespread publicity as possible to the current immunization clinic program. This will afford as much protection to the dog and thus to the human population as possible.

It has been my good fortune to enjoy the best of cooperation from the Board of Health and I herewith wish to express my appreciation to them.

Very truly yours,

John J. Murphy, D.V.M.

200 Bed Hospital A 200 Bed Civil Defense Hospital was obtained through the State on January 3rd. Certain conditions had to be met before the State would release this hospital to Arlington. Some of these conditions were proper storage site, available building to use as a hospital site and a 40 cubic foot refrigerator to store albumin serum.

The equipment is stored in three areas at the Public Works Yard. The building selected for the hospital site is the new Freshman Building at the High School. A certificate of understanding has been signed by the Administrator of Symmes Hospital and the Director of Civil Defense. This certificate says that, in an emergency, Civil Defense will move and set up the hospital at the Freshman Building and that Symmes Hospital will furnish trained personnel and operate the hospital.

A study is being made at the present time by Symmes Hospital Staff to determine the location of operating rooms, x-ray room, pharmacy etc.

Auxiliary Fire In September of this year Mr. Henry Ottoson, our Auxiliary Fire Chief, tendered his resignation. It was with sincere regret that his resignation was accepted, as he was a man dedicated to the Fire Department and Civil Defense. Mr. John F. McGann was appointed to the post of Auxiliary Fire Chief.

*Will be stocked early in 19671

Auxiliary Police Captain John Y. Duggan of the regular Police Department is in charge of this group of men, who, have this year given to the Town a total of 1,337 hours of service. Their assignments have been:

Church Traffic	1074 hrs.
Auxiliary Police Meetings	104 hrs.
Traff ic Assignments for Parades	103 hrs.

Total	1337 hrs.

We are very grateful to these men and they are indeed worthy of praise for their readiness to assist in police duty at any time.

Bay State 5 Watters This a group of Citizen Band Radio Operators who have joined the Arlington Civil Defense Unit.

On Halloween a group from this unit operated Citizen Band Mobile cars and patrolled the Town from 6:30 P.M. to 10:30 P.M. On another occasion the Director called for their assistance after a young child in the town had been lost for approximately three hours. They reported, almost immediately, to the Civil Defense Operating Center and took up their posts. Shortly after the child was located by the Police, but this group is to be congratulated for their quick response to a call for their help.

Communications In Arlington the Director of Civil Defense also has the supervision and maintenance control of the local Government Communications System. This year two more radios were bought for new cars purchased by the Police Department. We now have a total of 62 mobile units plus four portables with one at each of the following Departments: Fire, Police, Public Works and Civil Defense.

Matching Funds This is a Civil Defense Program under which we are able to collect one half our electric costs and also one half the price of equipment for which we can present a justification that meets the approval of the Federal Agency.

Under this program the following collections have been made.

Electricity	144.00
	$1,204.50

A committment has been made by the Federal Government for $785.00 for the purchase of additional radios but will not be received until 1967.

Public Law 85-606 This is a program which reimburses a city or town, that has met the necessary qualifications, approximately one half of their administrative and personnel expenses. Arlington has been certified by the State & Federal Government as eligible particpants. Of the seventeen cities and towns included in Sector 1C, Arlington is the only Town eligible to receive 85-606 Funds. There is also one city that is eligible.

Report of the Department of Veterans' Services

Mr. Donald Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Mass:

Dear Sir:

Submitted herewith is the twenty-second annual report of the Department of Veterans' Services covering the calendar year 1966. Massachusetts laws make it mandatory that financial aid be furnished to needy veterans and their dependents who qualify for such aid and that there be made available to all veterans and their kin such advice, information and assistance as may be necessary to enable them to procure the benefits to which they are, or may be, entitled relative to employment, vocational or other opportunities, hospitalization, medical care, pensions, compensations, insurance and other benefits and must keep on hand current booklets and other printed matter pertaining to the statutory rights and privileges of war veterans provided by Federal and State Laws. The first section of this report deals with the services provided and the second part with the financial aid disbursed to needy veterans and their dependents.

VETERANS' SERVICES

Photostatic copies made	4,076
Documents notarized	84
Contacts made in furnishing counsel, information and assistance in prosecuting claims of veterans, their survivors and dependents and processing applications for all types of benefits	2,807

Estimated total of money saved the Town by reason of successful prosecution at the Veterans' Administration of claims of persons who had applied for financial aid or would have been eligible to apply because of insufficient resources	65,000.

VETERANS' BENEFITS, WAR ALLOWANCE AND BURIAL AID

A tabulation of the administrative work connected with the disbursement of financial aid to needy veterans and their dependents follows:

Contacts (visits, interviews, etc.)	3,700
Applications copies, history entries, records and letters	4,060

Cases on rolls	75
Annual case load	811
Monthly case load	67

Applications and re-applications for aid accepted	66
Applications and re-applications for aid rejected	20

Authorized payments	96,028.49

WAR ALLOWANCE

No disbursements for this type of assistance during 1966	0.00

BURIAL AID

No disbursements for this type of assistance during 1966	0.00

REIMBURSEMENT AND REFUNDS

State reimbursement in the amount of $27,546.29 has been received by the Town Treasurer which balances indebtedness through May 31, 1966.

Total disbursements for 1966 through date of December 30, 1966	$96,028.49
Refunds and recoveries	2,718.40
Expected State reimbursement	46,655.04
Net disbursement by Town for aid expended in 1966	46,655.05

Continued rising cost of hospitalization, nursing home care, medication and doctors' fees, continue to make the problem of budgeting for the needy an increasingly difficult one. We have enrolled all eligible recipients of this department in Medicare and have hopes that this will lighten somewhat, the financial burden this medical problem for our aged recipients creates.

On date of September 9, 1966, an act further defining "Viet Nam Veteran" was signed into law by Governor Volpe. This law makes any veteran that has served more than one hundred and eighty days on active duty in the armed forces, between February first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five and the termination of the Viet Nam campaign, as declared by proper federal authority, eligible for all State benefits provided by this department. I do not expect that the year 1967 will show much increased spending brought about by these new eligibles.

Through the efforts of this department, during the year 1966, Arlington claimants received $130,000 from the federal government in the form of compensation, widows' pensions, schooling allowances, etc.

State reimbursement has been made to the Town of Arlington covering the period through May, 1966. We can expect the balance of 1966 to be made before July 1, 1967.

We wish to gratefully acknowledge the cooperation and help received from the Board of Selectmen, the Town Manager, the Personnel Board and their staffs and to express our appreciation of the excellent work performed by the employees of this department.

Respectfully submitted,

James M. Coyne
Director

Annual Report of the Arlington Housing Authority

January 9, 1967

Board of Selectmen
Town Hall
Arlington, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The Arlington Housing Authority submits herewith the annual report for the year 1966. At the annual election held in March 1966 Mr. Frederick R. Buckley, Jr. was elected to a term of five years and Mr. John J. Hogan was elected to a three year term. At its annual meeting held on March 8, 1966 Mr. Thomas M. Kelly was elected Chairman; Mr. Edward J. Doherty, Vice Chairman; Mr. John J. Hogan, Treasurer, Mr. Joseph S. Vahey, Assistant Treasurer, all officers to serve for a period of one year.

During the course of the year the Authority met regularly on Monday evenings and at many special meetings. The year 1966 was the first full year of occupancy of the 100 unit high-rise development for elderly persons located at 54 Medford Street. This type structure has now proven itself as the most reasonable manner to house elderly citizens in a high density land usage area. The occupation of these 100 elderly units was in addition to the operation and maintenance of previously constructed 176 Veterans' apartments and 72 elderly apartments at Drake Village.

At the Special Town Meeting held in October 1966 the Town authorized the Housing Authority to construct additional units for elderly persons. It is anticipated that planning and the start of construction on these additional units will take place in the year 1967.

During the course of the year the Authority made a voluntary payment to the Town in the amount of $6336 in lieu of taxes, which is the largest amount permitted by law for such payments.

The Authority wishes to thank the Board of Selectmen, the Town Manager, and all other Boards and Department heads for their cooperation in various matters throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

ARLINGTON HOUSING AUTHORITY

To the Citizens of Arlington:

Once again as Chairman of the Arlington School Committee it is my privilege to present this report on the progress of our schools. There is much to report so I shall limit myself to a few examples in the interest of brevity and space.

The Special Town Meeting in October 1965 voted the necessary funds to begin the construction of a twelve-room addition to the Stratton School. Ground was broken in March and work has progressed to the present time. It appears that because of material shortages and labor difficulties that the completion date of the building will be somewhat delayed. When the building is accepted for school use by the Stratton School Building Committee, pupils currently bussed to the Hardy and Cutter Schools will once again be housed in their own district.

At the regular Town Meeting in March of this year money was appropriated for plans and specifications for an addition to the Dallin School. If this addition is voted upon favorably in March 1967 it would appear that our elementary school classroom shortage will be solved.

The Committee is currently awaiting the results of the annual pre-school census taken in October of each year. It will examine the findings in an effort to ascertain if any trends are discernible that will have an effect on its long range building plans.

During the past year the Arlington Public Schools has been the recipient of $168,448 through various fund grants. These include: money for a program for pre-school youngsters, a summer program for aiding pupils with special difficulties, money for the purchase of library books and equipment, money for the purchase of audio-visual equipment in conjunction with our reading program, money for the purchase of data processing equipment, and money for the hiring of additional teachers, social workers, psychologists and teacher aides. These monies are the result of efforts by our able administrators to make available to our schools any Federal support for which we are eligible and can qualify. In addition to the above we have recently been notified that in competition with 128 projects from Massachusetts' communities, Arlington's proposal for a Title III project was one of about 20 selected for funding to the extent of $110,000.

The Committee has kept itself informed as to the academic progress of our students by inviting selected department heads to report on their specialities in open meetings. The Superintendent has kept the Committee informed of our school's position in regard to our testing program. It is gratifying to learn that our students are doing well in competition with other systems regardless of the criteria used.

This year, for the first time, compulsory collective bargaining with teachers over wages and conditions of work became a law. This summer an initial agreement was signed with the Arlington Teachers Association. Further negotiations are currently underway and most likely will continue for some time. It is our hope that the harmonious relations between the Committee and the teachers will continue to flourish in the future as they have in the past. The law would seem to encourage certain departures from accepted procedures of operation, but is is our belief that they can resolved in the best interests of our pupils, taxpayers, and our teachers.

It is my sad duty to note the passing of Mrs. Agnes Bray, beloved teacher of English and recent Housemaster of the 12th grade at the High School. Her contribution to Arlington High School was great and she will be sorely missed by all of us fortunate to have known her.

This year saw the retirement of many of our long term professional employees. Their years of loyal service and devotion to duty will leave a great void to fill. The Committee wishes to acknowledge the many years of dedicated services extended to our schools by the following individuals who retired this year:

Miss Merina Morrissette, French teacher, Junior High School West, after 39 years.

Miss Dorothy Thompson, teacher, Hardy School, after 36 years.

Mr. Gerard Kemp, Assistant Principal, Arlington High School, after 30 years.

Mr. Guy Petralia, Assistant Principal, Arlington High School, after 28 years.

Mr. John Sampson, Mathematics teacher, Arlington High School, after 26 years.

Mrs. Dorothy Danforth, Home Economics teacher, Arlington High School, after 25 years.

Mr. Howard Danforth, Industrial Arts Teacher, Arlington High School, after 23 years.

Mrs. Katherine Ahern, teacher, Thompson School, after 17 years.

Mrs. Dorothy Barnaby, Guidance Counselor, Junior High School West, after 15 years.

Mrs. Mary E. B. Murray, Art teacher, Junior High School West, after 14 years.

Mr. H. Russell Albro, Business teacher, Arlington High School, after 13 years.

Mrs. Effie McEwen, Home Economics teacher, Arlington High School, after 11 years.

Mrs. Beatrice Nadeau, Mathematics Teacher, Junior High School West, after 11 years.

Mrs. Barbara Hallos, R. N., Arlington High School, after 20 years.

The Committee is most appreciative of the efforts of the entire staff of the Arlington Public Schools for their cooperation in striving towards the best possible education for the children of the Town.

We wish to acknowledge our thanks to the Town Manager and other Town officials for their assistance when called upon.

Lastly we wish to thank all of the citizens for their support in making our educational program possible.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS FOR THE YEAR 1966

To The School Committee of Arlington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is my privilege to submit a report on the progress of our schools for the year 1966. It is my feeling that we are continuing to make our good schools even better.

The School Committee received the sum of $64,263 under Public Law 874 this year. The entire sum was turned over to the Town to help defray some of the cost of our schools.

The ordinary citizen cannot be an expert in all aspects of a rapidly changing educational world. But the ordinary citizen can readily understand the fundamentals of our educational system and can help shape and guide them, for they are rooted in our basic commitments as a people. They can also take a thoughtful and responsible interest in the way in which these fundamentals are applied in a particular situation. Bearing this in mind, this report will attempt to merely highlight some of the more interesting happenings in our educational picture during this year. Concurrently, with this report, the School Department is presenting a pictorial review of our schools that should be ready for distribution about January 1967. Together, it is felt the ordinary citizen will have a comprehensive view of what is taking place in education in the Arlington Public Schools.

OUR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Recent research by the government has substantiated, what most of us have long believed, that the key to a successful career depends upon the ability to read well. Consequently, the Federal Government is devoting massive sums of money toward the imporvement of reading among our country's youth. Arlington has long insisted upon a strong reading program and I am happy to report that even greater emphasis was given the first "R" this year.

Our elementary school objective in reading, a strong developmental reading program, which enables each individual child to move ahead at his own rate and capacity, continued to receive the major emphasis in the educational program. We must continue to have this type of program if we are to produce thoughtful, independent readers.

Similar to all school departments we are constantly on the alert for new ideas and materials to further enhance our goal: Better Readers, The publication "Speech-to-Print Phonics" by Dr. Donald D. Durrell of Boston University has proven so successful in providing a firm background in the letter names and sounds of the alphabet in the first grade that we have increased the number of teachers in our schools working with this phonics system.

We have been most fortunate in further strengthening our reading program by monies granted us by the Federal Government under Title III of N.D.E.A. We have been able to purchase some of the newer auditory and visual aid materials which will prove invaluable in supplementing our basic reading program. Children, we find, learn more and retain more when teaching methods involve a variety of techniques and materials.

This year with the Federal Funds we were able to equip every elementary school (11 in all) with a Language Master machine as well as the taped lessons to be used in the machine. The Language Master has, at least, four worthwhile uses in Arlington in our opinion.

1. It is most helpful for the classroom teacher when dealing with the Non-English speaking children who are enrolling in increasing numbers with us. Many of them are the children of foreign students attending Harvard or M.I.T. A tape displays a picture and a sentence. A master voice says the words and the children are able to see the picture and the words as well as hearing the voice and thus are able to associate meaning to the English language. The student can also repeat the sentence in his own voice and then play the master voice and his own for comparison purposes.
2. The tapes are ideal for the slow child as he can work independently at his own speed to review the basic primary sight vocabulary.
3. The Language Master also gives the teacher another motivating device to improve the quality of oral reading. Children who need to improve can do so by comparing their reading with the master voice. In this manner the child actually hears himself so he knows how well or poorly he is doing. He can also notice improvement in successive tapes. The Language Master is a much easier machine for primary youngsters to operate than a tape recorder.
4. Blank tapes may be purchased which enables the teacher to make her own taped lessons based upon the needs of her own class in any of the content subjects.

Just as Euclid is reported to have said, "There is no royal road to geometry," there is no royal road to reading. Therefore, our reading teachers feel that more than one approach to the teaching of reading is desirable depending upon the teacher, the pupils, and the circumstances involved. In previous reports we have discussed our Individualized Reading Program. In this report, we would like to share with the public how one school introduced this new approach, individualized reading.

All teachers who undertake this technique must first undergo an eight week training program given by one of our consultants. During this program teachers are taught the philosophy involved as well as the process to be used.

The Botel Reading Test, which correlates strongly with the philosophy, is given each pupil. Each pupil's difficulties are listed and his reading level is established. In this particular group of 10 first graders the range was from primer to grade 2-1st month.

Each child was given a notebook to list vocabulary words he didn't know. He was also given a piece of 2" x 6" oak tag on which to record the text's name and the last page read each day. A definite time for silent reading at their seats was specified for each day (40 minutes). In addition, the children became very enthusiastic and read every free moment without the teacher's urging.

Four days of the week each child was called up individually with his text, notebook, and recording card to the teacher's desk. The teacher presented the list of unknown words, discussed the stories and asked to have one page read orally. Individual phonetic skills were taught and reviewed. The teacher recorded the last page read in her notebook and if a book was finished, she recorded an "x".

At the end of each week, the vocabulary for the week was reviewed. Some children had 10 words, others 20-25. As time went by the number of vocabulary words which couldn't be attacked independently decreased. Once each week these children came back into a regular group for new lessons.

Oral reading was frequently taped to check expression. At the end of the school year, the children's reading level ranged from 2-2 to 4-1 which was significantly higher than comparable student progress in the same class taught by conventional grouping. The results are discernible in greater pupil confidence, language skills and strengthened speaking vocabularies. In addition, there appears to be a carry-over outside of school for one mother reported, "John wants to read everything in sight."

Under Title II of Federal Funds we received a grant of $1.25 per child in Grades I through XII to purchase needed library books. Needless to say, the money was most welcome and put to good use in a hurry. This unexpected bonus of books has enabled our Individualized Reading Program to grow at a faster rate than we had anticipated due to the need of several books per child under this system. While we do not feel that Individualized Reading is the answer for every child, it is one more indication that we are striving to find ways to enable every child to reach his optimum level of reading.

Last year we discussed the plans for the Dallin and Locke Schools to inaugurate a continuous progress program. This year we are happy to report that the program is in operation. During the summer of 1966, four teachers, one secretary, and the principals of the Dallin and Locke Schools were involved in a workshop. They completed the reading and mathematics program, prepared schedules, arranged class lists, designed a report card and got everything ready for a smooth beginning.

Phase I of the Dal-Locke Continuous Progress Program got underway in September 1966 with a minimum of confusion. This smooth start is due, we believe, to the summer workshop atmosphere where professionals can work without the usual school pressures. The children involved are those in the six and seven year age range.

Workshops are continuing on Wednesday afternoons throughout the school year to assist teachers further in the continuous progress philosophy. The subject under primary consideration is "Individualized Reading."

Twenty-eight of our teachers, in nine elementary schools, are participating in the evaluation of the "Match Box Series" from the Children's Museum, The term MATCH stands for "Materials and Activities for the Teachers and Children." These boxes, listed below, are individual and are basically kits of real objects, materials, equipment, supplies and activities all closely related to a specific topic. They are designed to work together as a unit. These boxes remain in the classrooms for a two week period at which time teachers present their evaluations to the Children's Museum. These educational materials will be refined as a result of our teachers' suggestions and then made available for distribution to other classrooms. The kits contain materials on: Houses, Eskimos, Camouflage, Sound and Music, Japan, Rocks Tell A Story and Medieval People.

Three of our largest elementary schools are participating in Northeastern University's Teacher Aide Program. A pair of students, one in each division, are assigned as teacher aides. They work alternating quarters annually and will be with a school three years. While one member of the team attends college, the other aide works at the school, assisting teachers' in many ways. She relieves the teacher from many non-teaching duties such as preparing and duplicating materials, assisting in scoring intelligence tests and other standardized tests, taking telephone messages, sorting and delivering mail, weighing and measuring children, stamping books, typing reports, delivering supplies and so on.

Gradually, as the teacher aide's background is broadened and strengthened at the college, she may begin to assume limited teaching tasks under the supervision of classroom teachers and the principal. The teacher aide is also supervised by her faculty co-ordinator who visits the school periodically to discuss the student's performance with the principal and to counsel the aide, if necessary.

Our proximity to Educational Services Incorporated (ESI) of Watertown and Newton has continued to pay dividends. This year Education Science Services (ESS) has been working with several of our schools. They have been concentrating upon the process approach to science learning. Under this method, based upon the research of Jerome Bruner of Harvard, it is felt that every subject that has an inherent logic that can be taught at any grade level and yet retain its uniqueness. Cooperating with ESS we were able to bring, at least, ten of their top flight developers (nationally known) into our fourth and sixth grade classrooms to provide teaching leadership of inestimable value. Materials and apparatus were also provided free to each pupil in quantity so that he might manipulate, observe and discover for himself. Our children had the opportunity to become individually involved in a variety of modern elementary science learning experiences under the most optimum circumstances. The teachers too, at all grade levels, gained new and exciting insights into the how and why of modern elementary science. These experiences point out, we believe, the advantages of our policy of research cooperation with area firms and universities.

Our elementary art program continues to strive to give every child the basic art concept that he needs to become a happy creative person (within his limits) with confidence and ability to express himself. This concept is more important than ever as our children are faced with a life in a mechanized world in which they will have an abundance of leisure. If we can help develop an interest in creative activities they will have a much fuller life than if they spend their time as passive spectators.

In order to achieve this objective we have added to our curricular offerings. We have added broadline and metallic crayons to our regular pressed and wax crayons for pupil use. In the area of painting we have added cake tempera to the watercolor and liquid tempera. Cake tempera is much more easily controlled which makes painting more satisfying for the younger child as well as enabling the older pupil to do more finished work. These additions, as well as others, permit us to provide a broader experience for every child which we feel will pay dividends for all of us.

This year, for the first time, one of our elementary schools entered "The Partnership Teaching Program" sponsored by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston. Under this arrangement highly qualified teachers, unable to teach full-time, return to teaching on a part-time basis. Two experienced teachers are employed to fill one position. These teachers share the same classroom and materials but at different times of the day. Each teacher plans for her own class and teachers independently. There is, however, a frequent sharing of ideas. In our situation the partnership is unique for being at the kindergarten level each teacher teaches different pupils rather than the same class. We feel this arrangement is most advantageous at the kindergarten level and offers cogent possibilities at other levels.

The role of the Federal Government in education is one that evokes much comment by people in all walks of life. In general, they agree on one salient point--it is good to receive money. Beyond this, there are strong arguments on the amounts of participation and involvement that the government should partake. We here in Arlington received considerable federal financial help at three schools under Title I of the National Elementary and Secondary Education Acts of 1965 and 1966. These monies were made available to us on the grounds that certain types of students could profit from additional materials and personnel. At one school the additional services provided pupils, teachers and parents included:

3 full-time tutors
2 part-time tutors
1 full-time nurse
1 full-time dental hygienist
1 part-time dentist
2 full-time social workers
1 consulting psychiatrist
2 part-time physicians

The five instructors, teachers and tutors began working in the spring of 1966 and are continuing in the fall. By providing small group instruction to selected pupils from each class, these tutors freed the regular teacher from constant total class teaching. This brought about more individualized teaching within all of the groups and a resultant gain in teaching time for all.

The tutors were assigned some primary grade pupils having severe reading difficulties and a few intermediate grade pupils having mathematical difficulties. These children were tutored two or three times weekly. The one-to-one relationship of the tutors and pupils brought about a marked improvement in the emotional and academic problems of several pupils.

The advantages of having a full-time nurse within a large school were many. Chief among the benefits was in her being an important factor in the improvement of home-school relationships through frequent conferences with parents about their children's physical and mental health.

The introduction of a dental unit, at one of our schools, was enthusiastically received by the parents. With few exceptions, parents gave permission for their children to have oral prophylaxis and fluoride treatment by the school dental hygienist. After the treatment, follow-up appointments for some children were made to have fillings at the Arlington Town Hall Dental Clinic. Other parents chose to have their personal dentist do the work. The dental unit was made possible, in part, by Federal Funds and, in part, by the generosity of a local dentist who loaned all the necessary dental equipment for the school's use.

The problem of classroom space is one that has continued to bother us at the elementary level. Currently, five classes of pupils are being bussed from the Stratton to the Hardy and Cutter Schools. When the addition to the Stratton School is completed, hopefully by January 1, 1967, this particular problem will be resolved. The Dallin Building Committee which was charged in the March 1966 Town Meeting with the responsiblity of bringing in plans for an addition has been working hard. If the 1967 Town Meeting chooses to vote favorably on an addition to the Dallin School, our elementary classroom needs appear to be in good shape as near as we can estimate. The yearly school census undertaken each October first seems to indicate that we are still growing but not at such a fast pace as previously. Being aware of this, The School Committee and the School Administration are carefully watching the situation to see if any significant trends are discernible.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Junior High Schools nationally have found the year of 1966 to be one characterized by much ferment and unrest due to the simple housekeeping tasks that have arisen. Basically, the country is faced with two problems of large magnitude.

1. Recruiting a considerable staff during a period of teacher shortage.
2. Trying to house a burgeoning school population without additional physical facilities.

The first problem is one that Arlington, fortunately, has not had to face, to any large degree, until the past two years, but will have to face increasingly in the future. We have tended to have a mature and experienced faculty that has been with us for years. Through their experience and know-how we have been able to absorb new teachers without any noticeable stress or strain. These experienced teachers are now retiring in increasing numbers so that our faculties are now comprised of many younger people. Though they are fine teachers, they have not had the time to become accustomed to Arlington under the tutelage of older teachers with some resultant problems, Concurrently, a new trend is shaping up in education throughout the entire United States that compounds the problem for Arlington. The so-called career teacher, who tended to remain in a community for years, is becoming scarce. Government grants, university enticements and vigorous recruiting by school systems on a nation-wide basis have tended to make more teachers move from one part of the country to another. All this is occurring during an inflationary spiral when school costs are mounting as well. As a consequence, we are attempting to recruit an able replacement staff under increasingly difficult circumstances.

Housing our future Junior High School enrollments raises another difficult problem for the schools. Both schools are now operating beyond their optimum capacities and must continue to do so until a satisfactory solution is found. While the classroom situation is tight it is in the area of ancillary rooms that the situation is critical. The Junior High School West has a serious problem in regard to the pupils' lunchroom, the teachers' lunchroom and the kitchen facilities. These were adequate, but antiquated, when serving 350-450 persons daily. They are inadequate to serve 450-550 persons daily without a longer school day or increased facilities. A similar problem exists to a lesser degree at the Junior High School East.

An even more serious area of concern involves the lack of library space at both schools. Without an adequate library one cannot operate a modern curriculum serving the needs of our pupils. This problem must be resolved. Of equal concern is the lack of counseling rooms, music rooms, and space for small group instruction or conference. A series of solutions to these questions may be offered when the staff has submitted its Five Year Projection on education in Arlington. The Five Year Projection will be discussed in greater detail later on in this report.

Despite these obstacles to the efficient operation of our schools significant academic progress was attained. Our science departments made particular headway in developing the pupil discovery approach to science teaching in contrast to the conventional subject and teacher-centered science courses. This change has come about largely through a cooperative project with Educational Services Incorporated. They possess the technical know-how while we possess the practicum where it can be put to productive use. A third partner in this project has been Uncle Sam, who through Federal Funds, has enabled us to purchase needed equipment and materials.

Under the direction of Mr. Gordon Neisser, a joint appointee of the Arlington Public Schools and Harvard Graduate School of Education, a most exciting curriculum change is occurring in the Social Studies. The Harvard staff and our own staff is busy constructing a new approach to the Social Studies that better approximates the pupil needs in the 20th century. Considerable stress is placed on the Case Study Method where the pupil learns the effects of alternative actions throughout the span of history. Several members of our staff along with Mr. Neisser worked this past summer preparing the teaching materials which are now being refined through actual classroom use. Ultimately, it is the intent of this project to have a well-coordinated and articulated Social Studies curriculum for grades K-12 in Arlington. This process will take several years to complete as all materials are classroom tested before going into the regular curriculum.

The English Departments are in the process of purchasing considerable numbers of paper back books. This is a step that has been taken only after considerable study and concentration by the staff. The books purchased are standard classics and some current dramas. As the prices are usually about one quarter that of conventional books we are able to purchase a larger number than ordinarily. Students are encouraged, but not required, to purchase copies for their own use and personal libraries. If the student owns the book he can underline and score salient points that would not be possible in Town owned books. A concomitant advantage accrues from the pupil's gradual acquisition of a home library of good works that he most likely would not have purchased. It is the feeling of the staff that one of their duties is to instill an enduring appreciation of good literature in students and this is one way to achieve it.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Continuing the policy of streamlining the administration of the High School, the two offices of Assistant Principal were eliminated and replaced by the position of Administrative Assistant. With these changes, the reorganization of the high school administration has been completed. Last year a Housemaster was placed in charge of each grade, Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior. The result has been most gratifying for now the administration is dealing with pupils at the personal level and on a more intimate basis.

Each year when discussing the curricular offerings there is a tendency, often unintentional, not to mention many of the courses taken by both our terminal students and college bound students. This year by design we are highlighting a few such courses in order to inform the public that we are truly a comprehensive high school.

This year in our Industrial Arts program we have thoroughly re-evaluated our General Shop with the following changes. We are adding units of work in electricity, electronics, and foundry. This shop is under construction with some assistance from one of the shop teachers and his classes. The boys in these classes are receiving a practical demonstration which should be very valuable to them. While the purpose of courses in Industrial Arts is exploration of areas of pupil interest, it gives them a head start on an employable skill that can be further refined by "on-the-job-training" after graduation.

On a more technical and a selective basis we were happy to introduce this year Descriptive Geometry as an advanced course in our Mechanical Drawing sequence. This course appeals to at least two distinctly differently oriented types of pupils--the career bound draftsman who goes directly into industry upon high school graduation and the college bound student interested in architecture or engineering as a career.

Mary Bunting, the President of Radcliffe College said recently, "One of the troubles with American education is that we educate women to be first-rate men." We like to think that our Home Economics Department is helping our girls to prepare for professions, if they desire, without sacrificing their birthright to be future home-makers and mothers. Each year we find more college bound girls, despite college entrance requirements, taking more Home Economics courses which we feel indicates that our curriculum is good for all girls.

We offer a four year sequence in Foods. The first year is set up so that the girls receive a knowledge and understanding of good nutrition and its relation to good health. They also become experienced in how to plan, to buy, to store, to prepare, to serve and to clean up after various types of meals. During a year the girls prepare some 115 different recipes. In Foods II the girls' experience is broadened by the preparation of more complicated recipes. Another important unit in the second year is the one on child care and the feeding of children. During the Foods III course the girls learn how to plan a food budget and their duties as a hostess or homemaker. This budget includes the planning for and the complete equipping of a typical kitchen from gadgets to food. Foods IV concentrates on more complicated recipes, cake decorating techniques, and the intensive preparation and evaluation of pastries, fillings and crusts. Each year, in cooperation with a local jeweler and florist, a table setting contest is held that last year attracted several hundred spectators.

Girls also have the opportunity to take a four year sequence in clothing. Clothing I is an introductory course in the basic techniques of clothing construction. It is hoped that the emphasis on the principles of design, color, good grooming, and care of clothing helps bring the basic elements of poise to each student. Clothing II deals with the advanced techniques of sewing that will be met in family living. Clothing III includes the making of a suit by each girl after such analysis as: her own face and figure her complexion, and the choice of colors most becoming to her. Additionally, each girl spends a semester studying Interior Decorating. Clothing IV is a basic course in tailoring in which a coat is constructed and fabrics are studied intensively. Perhaps the best proof of the success of this program is the number of "hand made articles currently being worn at the High School. The increased cost of clothing and the recognition of it by parents is undoubtedly another factor for the increased interest in clothing courses.

The newest and probably most popular Home Economics Course is entitled "Home and Family Living." It is restricted to Senior Girls. The work is done in units which cover the problems faced by a career girl, a college girl, and a very young married woman. They study a unit on finance which covers banking, credit, installment buying, insurance, taxes, social security and budgets. The home making unit covers nutrition, choice and care of linens, china, silver and glassware. Another unit includes proper etiquette and table settings. Lastly, a pre-school nursery is conducted, in the high school, to allow the girls to practice child care under excellent professional guidance. Surely, the young girl who has availed herself of these courses has prepared herself well to handle many of the problems of married life.

This past year our Business Education Department, in cooperation with the Harvard Graduate School of Education, has inaugurated an "achievement motivation" training program. This program is based on 15 years of research, by Professor David C. McClelland, which studied the motivational determinants of active, entrepreneurial-type of behavior. It is our ardent hope that these courses will enable us to help the poorly motivated pupil operate at a level more consistent with his ability. This problem is one that has vexed educators for years and if it can be minimized it will be a significant piece of research.

Further progress of our High School and its students will be discussed under Pupil Personnel Services.

ARLINGTON TECHNICAL & VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

Employment opportunities for graduates trained in specialized skills and related technology reached an all-time high this year. Employers started early in January to solicit interviews with potential graduates and by April all students who planned to go to work were placed in desirable and lucrative jobs. Minimum starting salaries ranged from $1.75 to $2.35 per hour for automotive specialists and from $2.00 per hour upward for machine and electronics technicians. By early August some graduates were earning as much as $2.80 per hour. These statistics focus attention on two important factors:

1. The school has built a reputation for turning out a well trained and highly skilled graduate.
2. More students must be trained to meet the employment demands by business and industry in the local area.

Enthusiasm for higher education was greater than ever as indicated by the number who participated in the College Scholastic Aptitude Tests. As a result, several graduates are continuing their education on a full-time basis, one to Lowell Technological Institute, one to East Coast Aero Tech and others are attending similar institutions in the greater Boston area. Many others are working during the day and taking evening courses in anticipation of earning engineering degrees from local colleges and technical institutes. The curriculum is so arranged that a student not only receives a good academic and technological background, but in addition offers preparatory subjects necessary for admission to engineering courses beyond the High School level. The school encourages all graduates to pursue some form of post secondary education in order to qualify for promotions and keep pace with the rapid changes in the industrial world.

Several new pieces of equipment were procured for the various departments to provide more training stations, protect against obsolesence and improve instruction. Two horizontal milling machines were purchased for the machine shop, one each from Federal and local funds. In addition a Federal grant in the amount of $16,000.00 is expected for the purchase of three more engine lathes, one vertical milling machine and one electric furnace. Present plans call for an expansion of enrollment in this department as of next September and the additional equipment should make this possible.

Twenty transistor training kits were purchased for the Electronics shop and one transistor demonstration unit was obtained for the Electronics related classroom. New testing equipment was acquired for the automotive shop replacing worn and obsolete facilities previously in use.

An appropriation from capital outlay was received for renovating an area for storage purposes which, for years, has been urgently needed. A great deal of valuable training material available from war surplus and donations from industry can now be accepted thus creating a saving for the taxpayer.

The last training program administered by this school under the Federal Manpower Development and Training Act terminated in August. Previously, unemployed persons were retrained for employment as machine operators, clerk typists and clerk stenographers after the regular school day. Apparently the program has met its objective as manifested by the reduced unemployment rate within the state.

It is the intention of the Director to request permission to expand his program so as to provide some occupational training of a semi-skilled nature for those pupils who could profit from it.

ARLINGTON TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

Since its establishment in September 1963 the Arlington Technical Institute has made remarkable progress. From its first single class of 21 students, enrollment has increased to four classes and 72 students. The faculty has grown from one full-time teacher and two part-time teachers to four full-time teachers and four part-time teachers. Its initial pilot program has developed into a highly efficient curriculum of college level subject matter.

The school, located in the Technical and Vocational High School area, offers a two year post secondary course in Electronic Data Processing, a field in which a critical shortage of trained personnel exists. The objective of the course is to train students to become programmers or systems analysts. Two classes have graduated and, with the exception of a few who are continuing their education, all have been placed in employment earning salaries up to $11,000.00 annually.

In September 1966 the first full quota of students was enrolled and a firm curriculum was established. Up until this time the school functioned under a pilot program. With experimentation completed and demand for training by students at a high level, the goal now is to procure permanent housing and more equipment. Recommendations in the annual budget include the remodeling of two rooms in "B" building, vacated by the athletic department, for data processing laboratories and construction of two classrooms in an adjacent courtyard to be used for related classroom instruction. The sum expended by the Town for this purpose could be used as matching funds against a Federal grant of an equal amount for the purchase of the needed equipment. To date over $180,000.00 has been allocated to Arlington by the Federal Government for equipment, supplies and salaries. Without this finanical assistance a course of this magnitude could not have been possible and we are grateful that Arlington was selected to institute this new program.

PUPIL PERSONNEL SERVICES

In the most difficult year of school and college admissions to date, Arlington High School sent 68.5% of the Class of 1966 to institutions of higher education. The twenty-third annual survey of the Guidance Department shows that 72.3% of the total of the class of 596 are continuing their education on a full time or part time basis. Each year, the competition for admissions will become keener, and we are meeting the challenge to help students to engage in educational pursuits which will develop their abilities and interests to the fullest, and in which they are likely to meet success and find satisfaction. About one-third of the class are attending four year colleges and universities and the rest are going to business schools, junior colleges, technical schools, nursing schools and non-collegiate educational institutions. For the first time, the University of Massachusetts tops the list. There are 33 members of the class at the University, 20 of them at the Amherst campus and 13 at the Boston campus. In second place is Northeastern, with 23 in attendance. Boston University is in third place with 19; Boston College fourth with 15; and Boston State College fifth with 10. The Ivy League colleges are represented with two members of the class at Yale, and one each at Brown, Cornell and Princeton. The famous Seven Sisters are included, with members in the freshman class at Bryn Mawr, Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe and Smith. Some members of the class have gone a long way for their education, for we find some of them at California Tech., Central Missouri, Kentucky Wesleyan, Maryland Institute, Rutgers, Stanford and Western Kentucky. Among the local colleges not already mentioned, there are eight members of the class at Bentley, one at Emerson, two at Emmanuel, one at Jackson, two at Lesley, one at M.I.T., one at Regis, two at Simmons, two at Suffolk, and eight at Tufts. Twenty-seven members of the class are attending eight Massachusetts State Colleges. As an indication of the competition for admissions to these institutions, 6,000 applicants were admitted out of 25,000 candidates. Other prominent New England colleges receiving members of the class include Bates, Bowdoin, Bridgewater, Clark, Fitchburg, Framingham, Holy Cross, Lowell Tech., Massachusetts College of Art, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Merrimack, Providence, St. Anselm's, Salem, and the Universities of Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Sixty colleges and universities are on the list.

Among the junior colleges, Chamberlayne and Massachusetts Bay Community College proved most popular this year, for they have 10 each. Twelve such schools are included with LaSalle, Mt. Ida and Westbrook proving next most popular. Among the business schools, Burdett has the largest number, 18, followed by Bryant and Stratton with 12 and Chandler with 10. Twelve such schools are represented on the list.

Girls are attending ten different nursing schools, with the largest number, 5, at Mt. Auburn, and 3 at Shepard-Gill School in Boston. Of the technical schools, the local Arlington Technical Institute has attracted 18, Wentworth 9 and Northeast Tech., 6. Newman Prep, with 10, attracted the largest number among the preparatory schools, followed by Huntington School with 9 and New Prep with 8.

Of the 596 members of the class, then, 68.5% are at school full time, 28.5% are employed, of whom 13.5% are doing part-time study, 0.8% are at home, and 2.2% are in the armed forces.

The Class of 1966 surpassed all previous scholarship grants with a total of almost $100,000. Grants from colleges amounted to $77,530, an increase of 70% over our largest previous amount of $46,000 granted in 1964. Total grants from some of the more prominent colleges were as follows: Harvard, $2,550., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, $7,500.; Tufts, $9,700.; Yale, $4,800.; Radcliffe, $3,000.; Northeastern, $6,900. The Department appreciates the generosity and cooperation of the following organizations in Arlington whose members have assisted worthy candidates in attending college: Allied Youth, Arlington Girls' Club, Arlington Kiwanis Club, Arlington Parent Teacher Council, Arlington Women's Club, High School Yearbook and the Zonta Club. Local scholarships including the Thompson Fund amounted to $21,165. The estimated value on a 4 year basis of scholarships earned by the Class of 1966 is over $300,000. The counselors were directly responsible for bringing scholarship information to the attention of the students and for following through with the colleges concerned.

Placement in recent years in many high schools has been looked down upon when job-oriented but stressed when college-directed. The trend is turning toward giving job placement its important place at the high school level. In Arlington, it has always been an important part of our program. We feel that students who are terminating their education are just as deserving of our assistance as those who are going to college. The Job Placement Bureau has been most active this year, and the employment calls have far outnumbered the students available. One hundred seventy or 28.5 per cent of the class were employed. Of these, 82 per cent were placed by the Guidance Department.

The Department continued its study of College Board scores and reports were made available to the Principal, Heads of Department, and to college admissions officers, who evaluate the curriculum in relation to the scores. The largest number of perfect scores (800) were received by members of the Class of 1966 in December and January achievement tests. The perfect scores included five in Mathematics - Level 2; two each in English, Physics, Mathematics - Level 1, and one in Chemistry. Of the 412 Test Scores received in the December 1965 and January 1966 College Board Achievement Tests, the following cumulative percentages were received:

Score of 800	3%
Score of 700 or over	15%
Score of 600 or over	36%
Score of 500 or over	62%
Score of 400 or over	92%

The National average score is 500, so it is evident that our students are acachieving well above average.

A group guidance program was initiated at the ninth grade level for boys who showed high potential ability but as of the second term had demonstrated low achievement. The counselor's aim during the group meetings was to assist the boys in understanding what obstacles stand in the way of achievement, what achievement consists of, and how ability and motivation can be channeled to produce academic achievement. It is still too early to evaluate its effectiveness.

During the past year personnel from the Guidance Department have held seminars for the classes of instructors from several of the nearby universities. We were also pleased to welcome many representatives from business firms, as well as from colleges, business and technical schools to speak to interested students.

The staff of the Psychological Counseling Department continues to concentrate in the elementary schools with each staff member assigned to one or more schools. In this way the Department member and the teachers as well as other staff members of the individual schools are able to work more effectively in formulating plans and programs designed to help children with adjustment problems, e.g., learning difficulties, behavior and getting along with others, fear reactions and so on.

When a principal refers a pupil to the Psychological Counseling Department, the Department member assigned to his school will gather all pertinent information through review of the cumulative record and discussion of the problem with the teacher, principal and other personnel involved. Meetings with the parent and the child may also be indicated. With this overview of the situation the principal, teacher and Department member are able jointly to develop a course of action. A particular child might benefit from firmer limits on his behavior in the class which could be the teacher's part of the plan. Or the Department social worker or psychologist might discuss with the parents the need for more consistent and reasonable control of the child at home. On the other hand, the teacher may need to help the child to be more relaxed in class and the parents may need help to be less rigid and demanding at home. It may be necessary to work with the child individually. Also, the principal or teacher may have active roles with the parents. Another possibility might be to help the child with his social relationships through group activity with a small group of peers and an adult leader. In some instances referral to an outside agency or resource might be indicated.

During the past year the Department has been actively engaged with about 300 children.

The importance of male identification with primary grade pupils who have learning problems has long been felt by several members of the Psychological counseling Department as well as a number of teachers and principals.

As a result of this strong and persistent feeling a project under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-10= was submitted for funding. The proposal provides that each of the kindergarten, first and second grade classes involved in the project will have a male teacher-aide in the classroom for about 2 hours daily who will participate in the teaching of basic skills. The unique aspect of the program is to give these boys the opportunity to become close to, and identify with males who value and enjoy learning. Comparison would also be made with classes that had female aides used in the same way to determine whether male association at these levels is really significant.

At the time of this writing the School Department has received some assurance that this project will be funded by the Government to the extent of almost $100,000.

ADULT EDUCATION

This year the Adult Education Department offers our Community thirty-eight Practical Arts courses, two classes in English for the Foreign born, nine Business courses and thirteen Academic courses.

We entered the field of Music for the first time this year which resulted in a class in Music Appreciation and a class in Woodwind Instrument Instruction. A course in Seasonal Decorations was offered for the first time and resulted in three classes each week with a long waiting list. Our Spanish class was over-subscribed this year and we have been very pleased with the satisfaction of the students in this class.

The Sewing Classes continue to have long waiting lists and we hope at some time to make provisions for additional classes. This year we were able to take advantage of the opportunity to obtain through Federal sources twenty new sewing machines for the day and evening classes at no cost to the Town of Arlington. It is our feeling that the Sewing Classes at Arlington High School are among the best equipped in the State.

Each year it is our hope to make additional changes that will provide the adults of our community with the educational service they desire without unreasonable expense to the Town. Every effort is made to make the Adult Education Course as accessible and convenient as it is practical.

A LOOK FOR THE FUTURE

On the opening of school in September, the Superintendent introduced his intention to have the entire staff participate in a Five Year Projection which would involve planning for the future. Teachers individually and in groups were encouraged to think constructively as to where they feel their subject or specialty should be five years from now, and to indicate what is needed to achieve it. Meetings will be held periodically and a report finally compiled of a synthesis of all teachers' contributions which along with those of the administrators should form policy guidelines for the School Committee for some time to come.

Earlier in this report the problem of recruiting and retaining a competent professional staff was discussed as a problem at the Junior High Schools. Needless to say, the same problem exists at all levels of education but perhaps not in the same degree. In order not to diminish our educational offerings in either degree or quantity it becomes necessary for all concerned to conduct a continuous and vigorous recruitment campaign. The community has its share of responsibility too for it must support a salary schedule that is equal or superior to these communities with whom we are in competition for personnel. Ultimately, the choice of a superior staff, or a lesser one, becomes a matter of money--are we willing and able to purchase the type of education our children need? Our staff is a good one, we think, and if we are to replace it with one of comparable quality it will be costly due to the current inflationary spiral.

An entirely new dimension in the operation of schools was initiated this year on February 15, 1966, when the state law making collective bargaining mandatory for education went into effect. The School Committee has recognized the Arlington Teachers Association as the bargaining agent for the teachers and negotiations are currently underway. Under this new legislation the teachers have a stronger voice than ever in regard to salaries and working conditions. This fact remains despite careful mention made in the law that School Committees were not to lose any of their powers of decision. Regardless of how laudatory or fair such legislation may be the results could well be other than was intended. It seems likely that as a result of this legislation the cost of operating all schools--state wide-- will rise sharply. Perhaps the good will built up over the years in Arlington will help mitigate this somewhat, but this remains to be seen. Nevertheless, it is an incontrovertible fact that conditions have changed and trends are in motion that will have far reaching effects for years to come.

The matter of adequately housing our future school population is one that constantly concerns the School Committee and the Administration Currently. a 12 room addition is under construction at the Stratton School. The Dallin School Building Additions Committee is presently studying the advisability of an addition to that school. It seems likely that they will recommend one at the 1967 March Town Meeting. When the Stratton School addition is completed (hopefully by January 1, 1967), and if an addition to the Dallin School is built, our elementary housing situation would appear to be in good condition. The growth areas in our Town, based on the Annual School Census, are located in the western portions of our community. The east section of the Town is growing very slowly and is unlikely to increase a great deal due to the type of housing prevalent there.

Both of our Junior High Schools will need aid within the next few years unless it is decided to curtail services to pupils. This appears unthinkable to most people so some other solution should be sought and may come to arise as a result of the Five Year Projection. The possibility of a middle school housing pupils in grades 5-6-7 or 6-7-8 located slightly west of the center of the Town and near the concentration of pupils has been suggested. Much thought and exploration of alternatives must be undertaken however, before any such proposal is given serious consideration.

The High School proper is operating near optimum capacity now despite the recent completion of the ninth grade classroom wing. This seeming paradox is best explained by pointing out that certain situations have altered since the addition was planned. The decision to create the Arlington Technical Institute, in order for the Town to avail itself of Federal support of a Data Processing Institute, meant the need of a few classrooms. Growth of enrollment at the Arlington Technical & Vocational High School necessitated additional rooms too. Each month the enrollment of the High School seems to edge up gradually as a result of in-migration and out-migration. Newer methods of teaching as well as public insistence upon smaller classes further complicates the problem. Perhaps the greatest need is in the area of ancillary rooms--classrooms for small group instruction (1-10 pupils), conference rooms for special teachers, speech therapists, social workers, psychologists, teachers of the partially sighted, etc. If this can be resolved within the existing structure, which may be difficult but not impossible, the school will operate more efficiently and effectively.

Last year over 1200 youngsters availed themselves of our summer programs. This means that about 13% of our entire school population was involved in some type of school sponsored activity. These numbers have increased every year and give every indication of continuing to do so. We must, therefore, take cognizance of this fact and budget both time and money wisely in order to provide for it.

It does not seem precipitous to estimate that in the next few years 50% or more of our school population will be engaged, at some time, in some type of school sponsored activity during the summer months. The enormity and magnitude of this is such that we must plan most carefully in order to provide correctly for pupil needs. At the present time, it appears that the type of activities that students want but cannot find time for during the regular school year will predominate. These might include: personal typing, mechanical drawing, instrumental and/or vocal music, art, laboratory experience beyond the regular year's work, industrial art courses such as: woodworking, electricity, electronics, metal work, etc., practical courses in the Technical-Vocational High School in the auto shop, the electronics shop, the machine shop, or the data processing shop and many other types of experiences. If the future really belongs to those who plan for it, we must act now, for it is already growing late.

CONCLUSION

In order for a large school system to function smoothly it is necessary for many different people to work in close harmony and often times unrecognized for their efforts. To these people, who for reasons of space must go nameless, I wish to convey my deepest gratitude and special thanks. My thanks too are extended to the School Committee who, in the ultimate sense, make all of this possible. For it is they who provide the ways and means to the Administration to carry out programs for the improvement of the schools.

We, the members of the School Staff, wish to express our appreciation to the Town Officers and Department Heads for their generous assistance whenever we have called upon them. Our special thanks to the Supervisor of Maintenance and the Supervisor of Custodians upon whom we are so dependent. It is my sincerest wish that the generous spirit of cooperation prevalent between the various Town Departments may long endure.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of the Planning Board

January 27, 1967

Mr. Donald R. Marquis,
Town Manager
Robbins Memorial Town Hall
Arlington, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Marquis:

In accordance with Section 49 of Chapter 90, and Section 71 of Chapter 41 of the General Laws, the Planning Board respectfully submits its report for the year ending December 31, 1966.

In the course of 1966, the Planning Board held sixteen regular meetings, and numerous special and joint meetings with other Town boards and civic groups, and, in addition, conducted hearings on nineteen zoning articles and furnished Town Meeting with reports on these.

A master land use map of the Town was completed during the year, showing basic information on 16,000 lots. The Board made several field inspection trips through-out the Town and furnished various departments and civic groups with information and data for their programs. Of particular interest to the Board was aiding the Housing Authority in its search for additional housing sites.

In addition to considering the tree planting program along Massachusetts Avenue, the Board initiated an article in the 1966 Town Meeting Warrant for improvement of municipally owned spaces in Arlington Center. Funds were appropriated by Town Meeting for landscaping in these areas. In 1967, the Planning Board will initiate articles to continue improvements for Arlington Center beautification.

As a public service, the Board distributed copies of the sign control sections of the Zoning By-Law to all businesses in the Town.

Amendments to the Zoning By-Law adopted in 1966 included regulation of hours of gasoline stations, adoption of dimensional controls of standing signs, off-street parking requirements for single and two family houses and several changes in zoning district boundaries.

The Board continued its work in land use studies and research into the applicability of various federal and state programs. The Board cooperated as well with other local communities that have showed interest in Arlington's pioneer sign control laws.

The Planning Board wishes to express its appreciation for the willing assistance and advice given to it by the Town Manager, and other town officials, boards and departments in developing its various programs during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

There was an increase of $49,463.35 in the total cost of the program for 1966 over that of 1965. There was a decrease in the cost to the Town of Arlington in 1966 of $42,365.58 compared to the cost of 1965.

The increased expenditure resulted from increased payments in State standard budget allowances in the Old Age Assistance, Disability Assistance, and Aid to Dependent Children Programs. It is also noted, herein, that nursing home and hospital rates were increased during the year of 1966 and it is anticipated that in the year 1967 these rates will be increased again.

The reason for the decrease in cost to the Town of Arlington, is that the Federal and State Governments reimburse 50% of all Medical Vendor expenses effective September 1, 1966, under the newly established Medical Assistance, or as it is sometimes referred to, the Medicaid, Title XIX, Program.

Total expenditures for the year 1967 will increase, but the Town of Arlington's share will probably remain stable because of increased reimbursement by the Federal and State Governments.

GENERAL RELIEF

The use of funds under this program is on an emergency basis pending eligibility for other categories of aid.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

The case load of 270 cases under this program during 1966 is expected to continue at the same level during the year 1967. More of our elderly recipients are now able to continue in their own homes by virtue of the use of homemakers' services which are reimbursed by the Federal and State Governments.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE -- ALSO KNOWN AS MEDICAID, TITLE XIX

The average case load per month under the program of Medical Assistance for the Aged is 255 cases during the year of 1966. As of September 1, 1966, this program is referred to as Medical Assistance or Medicaid, and it is expected during the year of 1967 that this case load will increase in view of the broadened medical coverage hereunder. The eligibility factors for Medical Assistance are less restrictive than they were under the former program. Please note that under the new program, expenditures for Medical Assistance are reimbursable at the rate of 50% by the Federal Government, and the State Government assumes responsibility for 2/3 of the remaining balance of the expenditures. At the present time, no great saving has been noted from the Medicare Social Security Program. A limited number of our nursing home patients will benefit from the Medicare Provisions. The expenditures for the Medical Assistance Program during the year 1967 are expected to increase in view of anticipated nursing home and hospital rate increases.

AID TO FAMILIES WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN

The average monthly case load in this program during the year 1966 was 71. Expenditures in this category of assistance increased during the year 1966, and it is expected they will continue to increase during the year 1967.

DISABILITY ASSISTANCE

The average monthly case load under this program was 45 during the year 1966. It is anticipated that the case load on a monthly basis during the year 1967 will be 50. This will be due to the fact that the definition of total and permanent disability has been changed, so that now a person whose medical record indicates he will be disabled for a period of twelve months or longer is considered totally and permanently disabled.

Annual Report of the Department of Youth Services

January 5, 1967

Mr. Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Marquis:

In accordance with Section 49 of Chapter 40 of the General Laws, herewith is submitted the Annual Report of the Department of Youth Services for the year ending December 31, 1966.

On April 1, 1966, Dr. Lawrence H. Anderson and Mr. Jacob Katz were reappointed to the Board of Directors, their terms expiring April 1, 1969. On October 31, 1966, Reverend Robert E. Slaughter was appointed to fulfill the unexpired term of Reverend Lewis W. Williamson.

In November 1966, our department was happy to welcome to its staff Miss Eileen Estrella and Miss Hope Cranska, students at the Simmons College Graduate School of Social Work. They serve (without pay) as a part of their professional training and will be with us until June 1967.

Presently 95 youngsters who had been referred to this department have been terminated after it was felt that the danger of delinquent behavior had been substantially minimized. 105 children and their families are actively in contact with the department, and of the remaining 38 who have been referred:

14 have moved out of Town.
16 have temporarily discontinued contact since no crises exist.
8 have discontinued contact, feeling that they no longer are in need of our services.

In addition, a total of 780 Arlington children have been listed with the Registration File maintained by this department as youth having received help from another agency or potentially needing help.

In an effort to fulfill the other varied functions assigned to this department, the staff has actively participated in many of the community committees and groups interested in the welfare of Arlington's youth, i.e. the Arlington Citizens for Youth, Arlington Community Action Council, Arlington Council of Social Agencies, and has worked cooperatively with other citizen and professional groups to improve and initiate programs available to our youngsters, such as the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, Arlington Boys' Club, Arlington Police, Public Schools, Courts and Churches.

Little meaningful progress could be made in this broad area without the full cooperation of all agencies involved, both public and private, and our sincere appreciation is extended to them at this time.

Respectfully submitted,

Arthur E. Johnson
Director

Annual Report of the Personnel Board

January 5, 1967

To the Citizens of Arlington:

The Personnel Board herewith respectfully submits its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1966.

The membership of the Board changed with the appointment of Harry L. Mullen to fill the unexpired term of F. Lawrence Doherty who moved out of town. Mr. Doherty served for five years and gave unselfishly of his time and talents in the continued development of the various municipal personnel functions. Jack A. Marshall was elected Chairman for the coming year. The appointments of John E. Bowler, an employee representative, and Harry L. Mullen will expire on March 12, 1967. Walter H. O'Leary was reappointed to March 12, 1969 as an employee representative. John J. Gibbons and Jack A. Marshall were appointed to March 12, 1968.

The Board has held ten meetings during the year and met with individuals, Union representatives, committees and Boards to consider twenty-six requests pertaining to salaries and fringe benefits. The requests included a 15% increase for members of the Fire Department, 12% for members of the Police Department, $800.00 across-the-board for all employees by Local 680, a reduction in the required service for four weeks vacation, and a reduction from forty-eight hours to forty-two hours per week for the Fire Department. As the cost of living continues to rise, the Board is again considering a recommendation of a general increase in order to maintain a median comparison and a fair standard of living for our employees.

In addition to the meetings, we have had frequent contact with the Executive Secretary on various personnel matters that have arisen between meetings. The Executive Secretary has had numerous conferences with the Town Manager, department heads, employees and the Division of Civil Service on matters pertaining to Civil Service procedure, the operation of the Classification and Pay Plan and the Leave Regulations. The following are some of the personnel procedures handled by the department this year:

Civil Service Requisitions	121
Emergency appointments	33
Appointments, temporary, provisional, renewals	227
Permanent appointments	48
Promotions - permanent and temporary	38
Termination of temporary employment	222
Termination of permanent employment	34
Permanent and temporary transfers	18
Loyalty Oaths	85
Group Insurance	40

There are at present 587 full-time, 47 permanent part-time, 6 temporary full-time, 33 temporary part-time, and 49 seasonal part-time classified employees in the service of the Town. The peak employment period was during the summer months with a total of 782. These figures do not include personnel appointed by the School Committee.

The Board appreciates the cooperation and assistance given by the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager, Finance Committee, officials, boards, Town Counsel and employees in our effort to administer the duties and responsibilities involved. We also wish to express our sincere appreciation for the capable services of our Executive Secretary and for the clerical work performed by Mrs. Helen McClusky.

Report of the Purchasing Department

Mr. Donald Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Marquis:

I herewith submit my report as Assistant Purchasing Agent for the year ending December 31, 1966.

As in previous years the cost of materials supplies and services showed a continued increase. Through our competitive bidding these increases have been kept as low as possible. We cannot avoid the fact however that many companies have arbitrarily raised their prices as much as 10%.

We continue to purchase in quantity items such as Gasoline, No. 2 and 5 Fuel Oil, incandescent and fluorescent lamps, tires and tubes, run-of-bank gravel, fine sand, coarse sand, ordinary borrow (cheap fill) and bituminous road products on a yearly basis obtaining what is construed in the industry as excellent prices. We are presently paying .17495 for gasoline and .11450 for #2 fuel oil.

The Department processed 5752 purchase orders in 1966. Quotations were obtained by telephone on those items considered too small for actual bidding. In all instances every effort was expended to secure the best price without sacrificing quality.

As previously, the By-Laws concerning purchasing for the Town were observed. On items or services where the cost was estimated to be over one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars, bids were sought by public advertisement for which carefully drawn specifications were provided. On items where the cost was estimated as being between $400.00 and $1,000.00, bids were sought by means of circular letter to three or more vendors. Specifications were prepared and supplied for these also. In all such cases these bids were opened and read publicly and duly recorded. Analyses were prepared of all such bids prior to the award being made by the Town Manager. A careful check was made of all low bidders with whom we had no prior experience.

During the year we opened and read 106 bids for materials or services and prepared 89 sets of Contracts. In some cases contracts were not necessary. The Bidders are required in some instances, to supply Votes of the Corporations, Performance Bonds, Material or Labor Bonds, Public Liability, Property Damage and Workmen's Compensation Insurance Certificates if necessary, prior to all being submitted to the Town Counsel for his perusal and approval before the signature of the Town Manager and the ultimate forwarding of all material to the Town Accountant for approval and encumbrance of necessary funds.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Town Manager, Board of Selectmen, Various Boards, Commissioners, Trustees, Town Officials, Committees, Department Heads and my staff for their co-operation throughout the year.

Respectfully Submitted,

Warren E. O'Leary
Assistant Purchasing Agent

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT PHYSICIAN

Dr. Edward W. Feeley, Department Physician, rendered the following services in 1966: 3 house calls, 2 station calls, 4 physical examinations and 11 hospital calls. He, also, had 62 office visits.

In addition, Dr. Feeley responded to many emergency calls and alarms of fire. Several conferences were held with the Chief of Department on Medical matters pertaining to members of the Department. On December 9th, Dr. Feeley inoculated the members of the Department for the prevention of "Flu".

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

October 9-15 was observed as Fire Prevention Week. Fire Department Officers distributed Fire Prevention posters and calendars in all public buildings and some business establishments.

During Fire Prevention activities, the Public Works Department cooperated in removing accumulated rubbish and debris set out at curbings for collection.

During the week of October 3-9 practical Fire Prevention pamphlets and booklets for children were passed out to schools with permission of Dr. Bert A. Roens, Superintendent of Schools. These were received favorably by the children.

FIRE PREVENTION

Assigned to the following phases of fire prevention were:

Deputy Chief Francis M. Doherty - Mercantile Inspections
Deputy Chief Irving L. Proctor - Quarterly Inspections of Nursing Homes and Hospitals
Deputy Chief Charles J. Doherty - Lodging and Rooming Houses

Officers and Fire Fighters made periodic inspections of places of business, public buildings, schools, hospital, convalescent homes and places of assembly. Records of existing conditions with date of corrections were kept.

Theatres were regularly inspected by Deputy Chiefs. Periodic Inspections were made of all town-owned buildings in conjunction with the insurance program by Deputy Chiefs.

During 1966, Lieutenant Henry T. Scannell, Inspector of Oil Burning Installations and Flammables inspected 293 oil burners in addition to flammable installations and storage equipment. 250 permits were issued. It was necessary to reinspect 43 installations because of faulty equipment and failure of installers to meet the State Rules and Regulations.

For the seventh year, the recharging of fire extinguishers was carried out by the "in-service" plan whereby the Fire Fighters responded with apparatus to each public building, instructing occupants in the operation and actual use of a fire extinguisher in case of fire. A total of 450 fire extinguishers were recharged or inspected during the year.

DWELLING INSPECTIONS

In April the annual "Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up" program began and continued into the month of May. During this inspection, Fire Fighters pointed out common hazards to occupants with the emphasis on all practicing safety in the home.

For the tenth year the "in-service" inspection of dwellings was conducted by Lieutenant Harold C. O'Leary whereby approximately 12,000 homes were inspected by Fire Fighters.

The Public Works Department also assisted as in Fire Prevention Week by picking up rubbish and debris placed at curbings.

FIRE DRILLS IN SCHOOLS

All public, parochial and private schools had four exit drills as required by the Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 148. These drills were held by the Officers of the Arlington Fire Department. The "in-service" method was employed, as in past years, whereby apparatus is available for response to an alarm of fire through the medium of two-way radio.

A record was made of classrooms, pupils, exits used and the time required to evacuate each building, a copy of which was sent to the School Department.

FIRE DRILLS IN NURSING HOMES

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 333, Massachusetts General Laws, Deputy Chief Irving L. Proctor made periodic inspections and held required fire drills at Symmes Hospital and all nursing homes in Arlington. Reports were forwarded to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

HYDRANT INSPECTIONS

During 1966, the annual testing of hydrants for pressure and volumes was suspended due to the high consumption and the necessity of low storage due to construction at the Metropolitan Reservoirs. However, in November all hydrants were checked for water in the barrel and, if found, it was pumped out. This program was conducted by members of the Water Department and the Fire Department jointly.

Permanent records are kept by the Fire Department and close cooperation with the Water Department is maintained. Faulty or defective hydrants were restored to service as soon as possible.

TRAINING OF FIRE FIGHTERS

The training program for the Department is under the supervision of Deputy Chief Robert C. Blomquist, who is assisted by Captain Eugene Del Gaizo.

During the Fall of 1966, two (2) 120-hour basic training courses were held for relatively new fire fighters at the rear of the Highland Fire Station. The first course was from September 12th through September 30th for eight fire fighters and the second course from October 3rd through October 21st for seven fire fighters. The program covered fire fighting procedures including the laying of hose lines, pump operations and the use of all types of ladders. Further, with the use of smoke bombs fire training was conducted in vacant buildings along Route 2 with permission granted by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works.

Daily drills were held in fire stations in all phases of fire fighting, rescue work, first aid including resuscitation, street drills and running card assignments. Also, drills were conducted in pump drafting methods and life boat practice at Spy Pond and Heights Reservoir.

During the year, the Drill Instructors attended Red Cross classes, demonstration of various foam applications, a two-week training course at Topsfield, Massachusetts by Civil Defense, a rescue course at the Massachusetts Training Academy, Framingham, Massachusetts as well as monthly meetings of the Massachusetts Drill Masters Association of which both instructors are members. Members of this Association are kept informed as to the latest techniques of scientific fire fighting evolutions.

AUXILIARY FIRE FIGHTERS

Auxiliary Fire Fighters worked in the stations from 7P.M. until 10P.M. on many occasions and rendered stand-by assistance. They responded and aided the regular Department during fires, snow storms and other unusual weather conditions.

Deputy Chief Irving L. Proctor is the Fire Department Coordinator for this group under the direction of Civil Defense.

DETAILS

Fire Fighters were detailed to stand-by duty as a precautionary measure to guard against fire during welding operations or when blow torches were being used for repairs in schools or public buildings.

In 1966, the Highland Station was utilized for registration of voters and voting purposes by the Town. Park Circle Station was used by a few civic groups as a meeting place.

Fire Fighters have been assigned during school hours for traffic duty at Park Circle to protect school children since 1949.

On April 19th Engine #3 participated in the Patriots' Day Parade in Arlington and Lexington. On May 30th Engine #3 was in line for the parade.

BUILDING MAINTENANCE

At Fire Headquarters the original roof was replaced with a new tar and gravel roof. The original was applied in 1924 when the building was built.

A new gas domestic hot water heater was installed to replace the original copper boiler which developed water leaks and, also, split a seam.

An old 1000-gallon gasoline tank that was used for waste oil storage developed a leak and it was necessary to remove it from the ground and discard it.

Two (2) new fire doors were installed on the apparatus floor level leading to the boiler room and repair shop. These were recommended by the Fire Insurance Underwriters during their annual inspection of the building.

A new overhead door was installed in the repair shop replacing the old original heavy swinging-type door.

At Highland Station in the front hall, cracks in the plaster were corrected, the walls painted and a section of the linoleum floor covering was replaced.

Maintenance was performed on various plumbing problems and it was necessary to repair several leaks in the roof as they appeared.

At Park Circle Station a heavy duty electric door opener was installed for the apparatus door with an electric timer to close the doors after the apparatus has left the station. Additional features include a pneumatic safety device to reverse the travel of the door when it comes in contact with any object and a weather-proof key switch on the ouside of the building to operate the motor.

A finish coat of paint was applied to the exterior of Park Circle Station, thus completing the necessary work started in 1965.

The driveway to the rear yard was regraded and then black topped. This eliminates a muddy condition due to thaws or heavy rains.

RECOMMENDATIONS

For the year 1967, I recommend that $876,515 be appropriated.

CONCLUSION

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen, Town Managers Monahan and Marquis, members of the Fire Department and all other departments, my sincere thanks for their unlimited support during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

John E. Canniff
Chief of Department

Report of the Fire and Police Signal System

January 3, 1967

Mr. Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Massachusetts

Dear Sir:

As Superintendent of the Fire and Police Signal System, I submit the annual report for the year ending December 31, 1966.

On Friday, August 26,1966, Assistant Superintendent, Lester W. Cameron passed away after a long illness. He was employed for 41 years in the Fire and Police Signal System and his devotion to duty was outstanding.

On August 29, 1966, Frederick J. Manning, Signal Maintainer since 1953 terminated his employment.

On September 19, 1966, Nicholas J. Bucciero,Signal Maintainer was appointed temporary assistant superintendent of the Fire and Police Signal system.

On September 19, 1966, Salvatore Aprile was appointed signal maintainer to replace Frederick J. Manning.

On October 3, 1966, William LaRue was appointed temporary signal maintainer.

Fire Alarm and Police Signals

During 1966, periodic testing of fire alarm signal boxes were held as recommended by the New England Insurance Rating Association. Tests were conducted under the direction of the Assistant Superintendent and Deputy Chief Charles J. Doherty, faulty and defective boxes were rectified immediately upon discovery.

Maintained and painted 332 fire alarm boxes and 89 police signal boxes throughout the Town. Made routine repairs, wound and tested fire alarm boxes and Police Signal boxes. Checked Police Signal desk, signal registers, air whistles and master clocks. Regularly conducted water-flow tests on signal boxes connected to sprinkler systems. Installed decal "Fire" on fire boxes throughout the town.

Experienced many difficulties as the result of temporary breakdowns in aerial and underground lines. Storms, high winds, rain, snow and lightning inflicted damage and circuits showed ground readings, immediate steps were taken to correct these ground conditions.

Work was performed on our standby electric generator at Fire Headquarters to restore its automatic cut in and cut out feature. A new transfer switch, control cabinet, battery charger and necessary electric wiring was completed.

As a result of modernizing our Fire Alarm System, four (4) additional alarm circuits were placed in service. Previous alarms circuits having an unusual high number of boxes on them were split, thus reducing the number of boxes on any of our twelve (12) alarm circuits to coincide with the recommendations of the New England Insurance Rating Association.

Further, all 332 fire signal boxes were retimed from one (1) full second to one-half (1/2) second time to be identical with the new transmitter time. This reduction in time is important because the signal is received much quicker thus clearing the circuit lines for multiple or succesive alarms of fire.

The following signal boxes were damaged when struck by automobiles:

Police Box	414	Appleton Street - Concord Turnpike
Fire Box	191	North Union Street - Norcross Street
Fire Box	3553	Ridge Street - Pamela Drive

Set up public address system on many occasions for various departments.

April 19th, Patriot's Day, sounded 1-7-7-5 on air whistle.

During the year houses were moved from along Route 2 to various locations in Arlington, Belmont and Lexington. During the moving processes it was necessary to move the fire and police signal wires out of the path of these houses and still keep the system in operation.

During the year of 1967, due to the reconstruction of Route 2, fire and police signal lines and fire and police signal boxes will have to be relocated.

The town clock in the Unitarian Church Steeple, Massachusetts Avenue and Pleasant Street wound weekly on Friday.

Arranged Christmas lighting and decorations at the Town Hall, Library, Police Headquarters, on tree and crib at Monument Park and at the three fire stations. Set up Public Address System for the playing of carols from the tower of fire headquarters building.

Thirty-five special evening sessions for the registration of voters were held during the year at various public buildings throughout the town. At these sessions, 1,461 persons were qualified to vote in primaries and elections. Throughout the year, daily sessions for the registration of voters were held as usual during regular business hours at the Registrars' Office in the Town Hall at which an additional 1,529 were so qualified, making a total of 2,990 new registered voters in 1966.

For the elections, referendum and primary held in 1966, the Registrars were in session throughout the entire period during which the polls were open, after which they assisted in the tabulation of the returns of ballots cast at such election, as follows:

	Polls Open	Tabulation Completed
Town Election (March 5, 1966)	7 A.M. to 8 P.M	2:15 A.M. (3/6/66)
Referendum Town Meeting (May 16, 1966)	2 P.M. to 8 P.M.	10:15 P.M. (5/16/66)
State Primary (September 13, 1966)	7 A.M. to 8 P.M.	3:40 A.M. (9/14/66)
State Election (November 8, 1966)	7 A.M. to 8 P.M.	7:00 A.M. (11/9/66)

A recount of the ballots cast in Precinct 11 for the office of town meeting members for two years at the Annual Town Election on March 5, was held on Monday, March 14, and recounts of ballots cast in Precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 for the Republican nomination of a candidate for the office of Senator in the Sixth Middlesex District, in Precincts 6, 9 and 11 for the Republican nomination of a candidate for the office of Representative in the General Court in the twenty-eighth Middlesex District, and Precincts 6, 8, 9 and 10 for the Republican nomination of a candidate for the office of County Treasurer for Middlesex County at the State Primary on September 13, were held on Friday, September 23. The details thereof are included in the "Records of Elections and Town Meetings", which appear elsewhere in the Town Report.

Mr. Alfred M. DeVito was reappointed as a Registrar of Voters for three years by your board.

During the year the information contained in approximately 35,000 listing slips of residents of the town on January first was transferred to their individual master cards, which provide for a complete official record of residence for all persons twenty years of age or older from the time they first became residents of the Town of Arlington.

From the information, certificates of residence are issued daily to establish eligibility for attendance at State schools and colleges, receipt of old age assistance, veterans' services, social security, employment in state or federal civil service, and for many other purposes.

Registered Voters' Certificates are also issued from our records for use as identification and proof of citizenship. Also issued to candidates for office at the State Primary were certificates of political party enrollment.

In accordance with the notice filed with this office on December 20, the voting lists of Precinct 7, 9A and 9B were revised to conform to the revision of the boundaries and town meeting membership of said Precincts as voted by the Board of Selectmen on December 19, pursuant to the instructions of the Special Town Meeting held October 24 in accordance with the provisions of law.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of the Town Counsel

December 31, 1966

Mr. Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager
Town of Arlington
Robbins Memorial Town Hall
Arlington, Mass. 02174

Dear Sir:

I herewith submit my report for the year 1966 in accordance with Section 3 of Article 3 of the By-Laws of the Town of Arlington.

There have been twenty-eight accident claims against the Town of Arlington this year. Six have been settled as authorized by the Town Manager and Board of Selectmen. Five have brought suit and seventeen are in abeyance. Of the previous years' claims and suits, eight were abandoned without suit, two were abandoned at the time they were reached for trial, seven were settled as authorized by the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen. Fourteen are still pending, and one was tried resulting in a finding for the Town. There were no verdicts against the Town.

Ten land damage claims against the Town arising from street widenings and storm drain installations were disposed of by compromise settlements authorized by the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen.

There were five cases pending against the Town before the Massachusetts Appellate Tax Board petitioning for real estate tax abatements. Two cases were settled prior to trial. One of the remaining cases was tried and there was a finding for the Town denying the requested abatement. The other two cases are pending.

Three was a Bill in Equity filed by the Town in the Middlesex Superior Court seeking an injunction to restrain violations of the Zoning By-Laws of the Town. The respondents were ordered by the Court to discontinue the violations in question.

Substantial amounts of money for aid rendered by the Bureau of Old Age Assistance have been recovered and turned over to the Town Collector.

The Town Counsel has been available at regular and special meetings of the Board of Selectmen, has worked in close co-operation with the Town Manager, has rendered opinions as requested by the Town Manager, various Boards, Departments, Committees and Officers, has attended meetings at State Boards and Commissions, and has been vigilant in all matters affecting the interest of the Town.

For the kind consideration and co-operation extended to me by all the officials of the Town during the past year, and especially to the Board of Selectmen and Town Manager, I desire to record my sincere appreciation.

Very truly yours,

Joseph A. Purcell
Town Counsel

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE ROBBINS LIBRARY

To Mr. Donald R. Marquis, Town Manager

Dear Mr. Marquis:

The task of the Library Trustees is to seek constantly to improve library services and facilities for the citizens of Arlington. Merely maintaining the status quo is not good enough, we believe, in the face of the knowledge explosion and the fact that more and more persons not only look to the library for recreational reading but depend upon it for significant assistance in their education and their work.

The following is our report on the Robbins Library as it is presently serving its patrons, some of its problems, and some of our concerns for its future.

PERSONNEL

There were several staff vacancies during the year. The vacant positions were filled with difficulty owing to an inadequate salary scale and a shortage of available trained persons. As of December 31, 1966 one position remained unfilled.

In March, Mrs. Sally Klein accepted a temporary appointment to the professional staff replacing Miss Gjoa Aanderaa who had been on extended leave from the Public Library of Oslo, Norway, and had been placed on the Robbins Library staff as a Reader's Adviser for a period of one year. Mrs. Klein, a graduate of Scripps College, studied at the University of Vienna, Austria, for one year and earned her Master's Degree in Library Science from Simmons College in August 1964.

Miss Rosemary Francis was appointed to the professional staff to replace Mrs. Klein upon her resignation in July. Miss Francis received her Master's Degree in Library Science from the University of Washington, accepted a position with the New York Public Library and subsequently served for four years as an associate editor of children's books with Holt, Rinehart and Winston of New York.

Miss Sidney Long of Ft. Carson, Colorado, became the Children's Librarian in September replacing Miss Judith Sanders. Miss Long graduated with an AB from Rhode Island University in 1965 and received her MLS in 1966 from the same institution.

Two additional positions were granted in the 1966 budget, an assistant for the Music and Art Department, and a Children's Librarian for the new Children's Room at the Dallin Branch. In October, to fill the position in the Music and Art Department, the Trustees appointed Miss Ewa Praszalowicz, a graduate of the University of Buffalo, New York, who expects to receive her Master's Degree in Library Science from Simmons in June of this year. Miss Praszalowicz has studied at Lycee' Racine in Paris and has two diplomas from the University of Paris, in Art and French literature. She has also studied piano at Academie M. Lelong. Miss Praszalowicz's experience includes two years with the Widener Library at Harvard.

The appointment as Children's Librarian of the new Children's Room at the Dallin Branch, was given to Mrs. George H. Williams of Belmont, Massachusetts, a former resident of Arlington. Mrs. Williams, upon graduation from Oberlin College, where she majored in Kindergarten Primary Education, accepted a teaching position in Rockford, Illinois, where she remained for several years prior to her marriage.

Several changes in the staff of school librarians took place during the year. Mrs. Ruth Dennett of Winchester was assigned to the Cutter School in October. Mrs. Dennett is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and has taken a summer course in School Library Work at Boston University. The past three years she spent at the American School in Beirut organizing the elementary school library and serving as its librarian. Her previous experience included teaching at the High School level in Beirut, and fifteen years as editor of social studies text books for Ginn and Company.

As librarian of the Stratton School, the Trustees recommended Mrs. Dee Anne Kimmel, a resident of Arlington. Mrs. Kimmel graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1964, and upon graduation became an editorial assistant in the elementary education department at Houghton Mifflin, from which position she resigned to come to the Robbins Library. Mrs. Kimmel is currently studying for her Master's Degree in Library Science at Simmons College.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Due to the age of the boiler at the Main Library, expensive repairs were needed. Other boiler repairs there and at the Dallin Branch were necessitated by certain insurance regulations. Constant repairs to the roofs of the library buildings continue to be expensive. This year the freight elevator at the Main Library required extensive repairs. A long needed improvement was the installation of book shelves in the hall outside the Catalog Room. Six additional windows in the Reference Room were fitted with combination screen and storm windows. A contract was let for installation of new floor covering in the Junior Library Hall.

CHILDREN'S ROOM AT DALLIN BRANCH

Securing funds for the employment of a Children's Librarian made it possible to open the Children's Room at the Dallin Branch in April 1966. The response of the children in terms of increased book circulation and attendance at special events indicates this new facility is meeting a definite need.

PROGRESS ON EAST BRANCH ADDITION

As previously reported, it was the decision of the Trustees to use the funds from the Edith M. Fox bequest for an addition to the East Branch. The plot of vacant land directly behind the present building was taken by eminent domain through action of the Town Meeting.

The Trustees visited numerous libraries throughout the state in order to acquaint themselves with new facilities and various types of additions. With this knowledge of the work of a number of library architects, they selected several architects for interviews. The firm of Isidor Richmond and Carney Goldberg, of Boston, was chosen to design the addition. The plans are being drawn and it is expected that the proposed addition can be put out for bids early in 1967.

LIBRARY SURVEY

The 1966 Town Meeting voted the necessary additional funds to secure a broad survey of future library building needs for the town . Mr. Francis R. St. John, Library Consultant, was engaged to undertake the survey. His report, submitted to the Trustees in November, outlined the necessity for greatly increased library facilities in the center of the town, preferably in a new building.

The Robbins Library has been experiencing in the last few years the change from being mainly a source for recreational reading to becoming a center for study and reference work. Because of its location it is heavily patronized by students and scholars from Greater Boston educational institutions as well as the Arlington schools. The result is a steadily increasing demand for and use of all kinds of reference materials, periodicals, and the latest books in all disciplines of the arts and sciences.

Our library has been outstanding because of the superior services and facilities it has offered to its patrons. However, the physical facilities of the Main Library are being taxed to capacity. The present building was erected in 1892 when the town's population was about 6,000 while the Junior Library was built in 1931 when the population was 36,000. It is probably true that Arlington's population will not increase greatly in the future. There is, however, every indication that the number of persons of all ages using the library will continue to increase. The desire and need for more education at all levels means that each year more persons are turning to the library for help and information they can obtain nowhere else.

The town must soon give serious consideration as to how Arlington is to continue to supply superior library services and facilities at the Main Library. The Trustees feel it is their duty to inform the community of the need, and to try to find the best solution. The recent survey was undertaken for this purpose.

PERSONNEL AND SALARY PROBLEMS

One of the most time-consuming and difficult problems for the Trustees is finding qualified persons to fill staff positions. College and university libraries, private industry libraries, and high school libraries all offer serious competition because they pay higher salaries. Professional staff positions at the Robbins Library often go unfilled for months because the salaries offered are too low to attract qualified applicants. The situation has become more serious each year and the Trustees are making every effort to secure an upgrading of the salary schedules.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES

The three largest schools, Stratton, Hardy and Thompson, now have full-time librarians, while each of the other elementary schools has a half time librarian. With changes in teaching techniques and assignments requiring reference work in the lower grades, the duties of school librarians are constantly increasing.

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

The 1966 National Library Week was celebrated with another outstandingly successful program sponsored by the Friends of the Robbins Library. Art Buchwald, humorist and syndicated columnist, spoke before a capacity audience in the Lowe Auditorium . Former Ambassador Edwin Reischauer has been engaged for the 1967 program when he will speak about his experiences in Japan.

THEFT OF BOOKS

The problem of the theft of books continues to plague the library. Some of the books taken without being checked out are later returned to the outside book bin, or are left on the shelves in the stacks. However, the library annually loses large numbers of books, including reference books, which are costly to replace. A possible preventive measure for this situation is checking the books of all patrons as they leave the building, a practice followed by college libraries and some public libraries. Unless there is a drastic reduction in such thefts, the Trustees may be forced to ask for funds to institute such an inspection system.

ROBBINS PRINT COLLECTION

Dr. Ellen P. Wiese, curator, arranged a number of interesting and timely shows for the Art Gallery throughout the year. These included prints from the George Binet Print Collection, the DeCordova Museum of Lincoln, the Gropper Art Galleries of Cambridge, and the Robbins Print Collection. An exhibit by the Arlington Art Association was also shown.

A major conservation project was carried on during the year in the removal of some 700 prints from the permanent frames into which the prints had been placed some 30 or 40 years ago.

The 1966 purchases included Renoir's portrait of his small son, Claude, a February scene by Robert Burkert, two medium sized color prints by America's most famous "Art Nouveau" artists, T. H. Rheade and Will Bradley, and a smaller companion of the same turn-of-the-century style, Aubrey Beardsley.

GIFT

An addition of singular value was made to the Robbins Library during the year by Mr. Robert L. Roussel. His gift of electronic data processing manuals makes available information usually found only in highly technical libraries; current interest in the computer field makes this a valuable collection for the people of Arlington. Mr. Roussel is Manager of Systems, Honeywell Electronic Data Processing Division.

GRANT-IN-AID

Through State Aid to Libraries legislation, the Town of Arlington received a grant of $12,488.25, representing twenty-five cents per capita, from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1966. This money goes directly into the Town Treasury.

In addition, the library returned to the Town $13,176.07 collected as fines for overdue and lost books.

CONCLUSION

The sole aim of the Trustees is to provide the best possible library facilities and services to the citizens of Arlington. In carrying out our job we have had the assistance of many persons.

The Trustees are cognizant of the devotion and cooperation of the Librarian and the entire staff in making the library program effective and far-reaching and to the custodial staff for its interest and help in keeping the building and grounds in good condition.

The Trustees wish to pay special tribute to the Town Manager for his constant support and help, and to the Board of Selectmen for their concern for the library.

The cooperation of the personnel of the many town departments upon whose help the library is so dependent is likewise appreciated. Finally, the Trustees wish to thank the Friends of the Robbins Library for their sustaining interest and active participation in the library program.

Respectfully submitted,

Maude D. Thompson, Chairman
Board of Library Trustees

Report of the Librarian

To: The Board of Library Trustees:

One hundred years ago, it must have been relatively simple for the Librarian to write a report of the work of the Arlington Library for the year just passed. The library was housed in the Town Hall. Expenditures for the twelve month period amounted to $190.56 and were for four items, $8.31 for carpentry work, $7.25 for fuel, while the Librarian received $75 for salary and $100 was allotted for the purchase of books.

The appropriation for 1966 for library services was $376,561.84. Profound social changes have taken place in the one hundred intervening years, and it is apparent that these changes have influenced the function and development of public libraries. Today, the Public Library "is a dynamic institution aiming its services at the needs of the particular community in which it is located. The Public Library's resources must be such that they support the industry of the community as well as provide the first adventure into the world of books by the pre-school child. Its staff must be skilled and experienced in providing quality library service. Its governing board must be understanding and knowledgeable in order to assure continued support for improvements of all kinds."

The Robbins Library in 1966 was a busy place, alive with people, humming with activity. Books were borrowed, 437,289 of them, not including the 121,436 volumes taken from the elementary school libraries. Phono-record albums circulated to the tune of 21,962 while 472 films were booked for group showings, and 3,283 pictures were selected from the mounted picture collection for school and individual use. 36,846 reference questions were recorded, 15,755 notices for overdue books were sent and 5,414 reserves were processed. Statistics and still more statistics could be cited. But after all, of what real importance are such numbers except perhaps, to the budgeting authorities?

More important is the fact that the citizens using their library, found that it met their needs. Perhaps the student, through the help of the librarian, learned to use the indexes, magazines, reference books or other materials and discovered what a storehouse of knowledge was open to him. It may be that through informal browsing among the books and periodicals the library became the means of stimulating an adult to further study or challenged him with some exciting new idea. Such practical and intangible benefits of library experience cannot be denied, but neither can they effectually be described.

The following is a brief backward look at some of the tangible results of the work of the past year, work often done under trying circumstances, in crowded areas and with insufficient staff. As mentioned earlier, 437,289 books and pamphlets were circulated from the Main Library and its branches and 121,436 through the elementary school libraries. As will be noted in the comparative figures listed below, the public library circulation was 212 less than that of a year ago. That the loss was slight is quite remarkable as the circulation trend throughout the country, in libraries large and small, has been reported down during the past year. The increase in the elementary schools was 11,541.

In order to help the borrowers keep abreast of the times and aware of the books available, many annotated booklists were compiled and duplicated for public distribution. BOOKS WILL HELP YOU STRETCH THAT DOLLAR, WORLD AFFAIRS ARE YOUR AFFAIRS, SELECTED BOOKS ABOUT THE MENTALLY RETARDED, LOOKING TOWARD THE LATER YEARS, IT'S FISHING TIME, BOOKS FOR LENT, are but a few of the titles. Also to help the borrowers in their reading, special collections of books were placed on display for circulation, thirty four in the lobby and stack area of the main library alone, not to mention those in the branches or other departments. One of the most popular displays was BOOKS PRINTED IN ESPECIALLY LARGE TYPE, which listed the recent addition of about one hundred titles printed in eighteen point type for those with sight problems. Included in this display was the large type edition of the Reader's Digest to which the library began to subscribe in 1966.

In spite of the often inadequate facilities, the adult departments of the main library and its branches were bursting with activity much of the time during 1966. Every department experienced increased demands for materials to be used within the library itself. Some small relief from the overcrowded conditions was realized upon installation of the new furniture in the Reference Room. The smaller tables and chairs allowed for an increase in the seating capacity of fifty percent. It was with a distinct sense of satisfaction to note that as a result of this additional furniture, more adults again found it possible to study and read in the Reference Room during the evening hours. The Business Room, too, with its colorful new chairs and tables, afforded more seating space. The use made of this department showed that it has met a need, proved over and over again by the comments of approbation which have been received during the past year.

At the Dallin Branch, the conversion of the auditorium into a children's room with the subsequent removal of books for children through the sixth grade to this new facility, afforded more space for the adults and lessened the confusion to a great degree, a satisfactory arrangement all around. Relief for the overcrowded conditions at the East Branch hopefully will be realized before another year ends in the planned addition to be made possible by the bequest of Miss Edith M. Fox.

The impact of the Music and Art Department on the community is steadily increasing, as the story of the past year's work reveals. As interest in the fine arts has become more generally widespread, people have looked to the library as a source of reference, inspiration and study. According to the Music and Art Librarian, material for fifteen of the forty-two courses listed in Arlington's Adult Education bulletin is to be found in the Music and Art Department, and daily, during 1966, requests were received from people taking these courses. Retired people used the resources of the department for creative painting, pottery and other craft activities. Families as well as students, teachers, amateur and professional musicians and groups of various kinds were responsible for the circulation of the 21,962 record albums mentioned earlier. Over eighty organizations, church and scouting, club and family groups, used the 472 films made available to the library largely through the Library Film Cooperative of the Massachusetts Department of Education and the Canadian Film Library. A catalog listing these films and dates available was compiled and distributed and was heavily used by the borrowing groups.

Requests for help in locating materials during 1966 doubled in this department and included a wide variety of subjects. The "Eye of God" in American Indian design - its origin and meaning: The Mass - settings of all types including folk masses - for young people and church school leaders: phonics recordings for a troubled parent to help her child: composition of the metal used in church bells: recordings about events at Pearl Harbor: recordings of the folk music of India: ceramic technique and identification of antiques were some of the subjects. FINE ARTS AROUND THE WORLD was chosen by the Kensington Park Study Club for its programs for 1966 and the staff of the Music and Art Department worked closely with this group helping to select appropriate topics and gathering material for their papers.

The year 1966 was a busy one for the Young Adults' Department. To be sure, there was a loss in book circulation of 4,710 volumes, approximately sixteen volumes per day, but there was a much greater activity within the department itself. Its use as a resource center for high school students increased and the reference work was very heavy. Teachers were most cooperative in giving advance notice of assignments thus allowing the librarian time to gather the material, and, when necessary, place it on reserve for the use of all students. Practically every day, from 2:30 on, the Young Adult's Librarian was kept busy helping students select books for assignments for reading pleasure and explaining to those young people from private schools who had not been exposed to the school libraries, how to find material for their projects. Often, anywhere from one hundred to one hundred seventy five students used the Young Adults' Room in an afternoon, some staying the whole afternoon, others but a few minutes in which to pick up a book or two. In the evenings during the greater part of the school year, the Junior Library was opened as a study hall to accommodate the number who wished to use the reference books or study and often there were from forty to eighty students studying and reading at the same time. As the Young Adults' Room has only nineteen seats and the Junior Library forty-four, it can readily be understood that capacity use was made of the rooms. From the start of the school year in September, because of the numbers using this department, talking and "visiting among the groups" was discouraged, regretfully, to be sure. Word, however, spread that the library was now a quiet place in which to study and this kept troublemakers away and eliminated a serious discipline problem which had been prevalent in the spring.

Once again, the Arlington Technical High School sent two classes for a series of four sessions each for orientation to the Library, usually from eight to nine o'clock in the morning. According to the librarian, it has been a challenge to direct some of these young people to stimulating and suitable reading materials and to see these boys return to the library after classes had ended to become readers and library users. The Young Adults' Librarian also visited the Jr. High Schools and the St. Agnes and St. James Schools and spoke to about 1200 eighth grade students on the topic "What books can mean to you." She made reading lists for teachers and, upon special request, compiled two bibliographies, one on science reference materials, the other on social studies materials, these lists to be used as a guide for purchasing school library books under Title II of the Library Services and Construction Act.

The Young Adults' Librarian, in addition to reviewing and examining all the acquisitions to the Young Adults' Book Collection continued to serve as a member of the Young Adult Cooperative Book Review Group of Massachusetts, a group which recommends books for nation wide library use. When asked about her work she commented, "Each of the three years that I have been in the Young Adults' Department has been very different from the others, but each has been rewarding. The unexpected 'thank you' from the youngster who learned how to use reference works, a poem written and shared or a discussion of plans for the future are the librarian's reward. The year to come is a challenge which I hope to meet with imagination and continued direction for young adults."

It has been said that "the love of reading is caught, not taught." Among the library's most important patrons during 1966 were the children. It behooves the trustees to provide librarians who are creative and enthusiastic, whose contagious interest in books and reading will strike a spark in the children who come looking for books, whether it be for pure pleasure, a bit of browsing or for school study. The trustees have fulfilled their obligation in this respect and during 1966 the staff of the Junior Library and the Branch librarians of the Dallin and East Branches bent their best efforts on behalf of the children and their books. Fall and winter afternoons found the libraries teaming with children of all ages, from toddlers picking out picture books with their parents to seventh and eighth grade children using reference books or merely looking for "a good book." Mingling among them were the librarians, finding a book of plays for a sixth grader, a mystery story for an eighth grade girl, a book on space travel or flying saucers for a boy, or material on medieval knights for another. Perhaps it was a teacher who needed help in selecting supplementary material for her classes, a club leader looking for games and handwork projects, a mother who wanted books to read aloud to her children, or to help solve a problem through the use of a particular book, whom the librarian helped.

Excitement seemed always to be in the air on Saturday mornings at the Junior Library for it was then that the special programs were scheduled for boys and girls through the sixth grade. Spellbinding stories or films, usually based on books, held the children's attention and brought them back the next week for more. At the Dallin Branch, from October on, the exciting morning was Wednesday when the picture book story hours for pre-school children were held, delighting the parents as well as the little folk.

During the summer it was the reading club program with its theme CIRCUS FUN which attracted the children. Over six hundred participated in this activity, reading books, and reporting upon them to the librarians.

Many exhibits made the children's rooms interesting and exciting. An unusual exhibition which drew many distinguished visitors, including the wife of the Governor of the Commonwealth, was a collection of posters and paintings executed by the children of the Fernald School. Perhaps the most ambitious display took place during Book Week in November, when, in addition to the usual exhibits of new books displayed in the Children's Rooms of the Main Library and the Branches, a group of six hundred books for children from Kindergarten age through the ninth grade, loaned by "Books-On-Exhibit" a national book exhibiting service, was made available in the Library Hall for three days for parents and teachers. Over one hundred elementary school teachers of both public and parochial schools were special guests at a "Book Tea" on Wednesday afternoon at which time the children's librarians and the Branch and School Librarians were on hand to discuss these books with the teachers.

The Supervisor of Children's Library Services and her staff, as well as the Branch librarians, spent endless hours outside their working hours, reading new books to be added to the children's book collections. These collections are carefully selected and much care is taken to choose the best out of the hundreds of new books published during each year. These librarians also were active in the Round Table of Children's Librarians of Greater Boston and in a group of children's librarians from the suburban area which met once a month to discuss common problems and promote new ideas for better service to youth and parents of each community. The Supervisor also was a participating member of the Eastern Massachusetts Book Review Committee which met at the Robbins Library once each month and the Science Book Review Committee which held its bi-monthly meetings at Harvard.

The school libraries, under the direction of the Supervisor of Children's Library Activities, continued to function. Teaching the use of the library, introducing books through talks and story telling, guiding the children in their book reports and in every way possible offering program enrichment to the elementary classes kept the librarians busy. Three school libraries, the Crosby, Cutter, and Thompson, were kept in operation for the summer programs carried on by the School Department. The special project during the spring of 1966 was the selection, purchase and processing of approximately two thousand additional titles made possible with funds from Title II of the Library Services and Construction Act. These funds, in addition to the regular yearly modest appropriation, from which another 2348 books were realized, gave these libraries a real boost. The individual school collections are now reaching a working size and strength so that the books originally loaned to the schools at the start of the school library program are being returned to the Junior Library.

The Hardy, Stratton, and Thompson schools, as of September, were assigned full time librarians. Hopefully, all schools will eventually be so staffed. As the Crosby School, throught a resignation, has been without a regular librarian since September, the Supervisor of Children's Library Services has spent two mornings a week at the school and a Northeastern student has been assigned to the school on a part time basis in order to give the school at least a minimum service.

The circulation of books at the elementary school libraries was as follows:

All the hustle and bustle of the year just passed did not take place in the public service areas. There was activity behind the scenes as well. Although the working space occupied by the Technical Services Department is crowded beyond reason, a large volume of work was accomplished. During 1966, 11,735 new books, including a backlog of almost 1000 gift books which had piled up because of staff vacancies, were cataloged and processed. Of the number cataloged, 8,417 volumes were for the Main Library, 1,671 for Dallin, and 1,647 for East. It may be of interest to note that book ordering procedures have been simplified during the year saving many hundreds of man-hours annually, and the experiments in the use of Library of Congress proof sheets and the microfilming of catalog cards have proved very satisfactory. 49,453 cards were typed and filed in the public catalogs, and 3,443 volumes were withdrawn from the collection as worn out or out dated.

The following items also deserve mention.

As usual, the Library Hall was in constant demand and was used on 325 different occasions. The Historical Room, as well, was used for 23 small group meetings.

Newspaper publicity for the year was excellent. Scarcely a week during the entire year passed without at least one story on the library being carried, usually exactly as it had been submitted by the Assistant Librarian who is in charge of this publicity.

The pictures of the month exhibited by the Arlington Art Association at all three libraries created much interest.

Book service to patients at the hospital was resumed late in October after an interruption of two months duration due to personnel shortage.

Gifts of magazines, books, and other materials were donated by individuals and gratefully accepted by the library.

Staff members participated in local and state library meetings, and several attended conferences scheduled by the Massachusetts Library, the New England Library, and the American Library Associations.

Mrs. Marie O'Day received her Master's Degree in Library Science in August, and several other staff members continued to work toward their higher degrees.

This, then, in brief, is the library story for 1966. As has been so succinctly stated by the Chairman of the Board in her report, the time has come to consider enlarged library facilities if the public is to have its increasing requirements and demands met, although it must be admitted that the library personnel would rather have "demands greater than the facilities, than to have spacious facilities and no demands for them." It is the book collection, too, together with a competent staff, rather than the served population, that determines how well a library can perform. In 1907, Mr. Charles S. Parker, in his History of the Town of Arlington, wrote, "The library holds a high place in the esteem of the community." It is hoped that this comment held true in 1966. For the support given the library during the year by the people and town officials of Arlington, for the really dedicated interest of the Board of Library Trustees, for the loyal cooperation of the staff who served so well, and for the help of the custodial staff whose pride in their work was reflected in the appearance of the building and grounds, the librarian herewith expresses her appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

Judith E. Stromdahl
Head Librarian

Annual Report of the Department of Public Works

Mr. Donald R. Marquis
Town Manager
Arlington, Massachusetts 02174

Dear Mr. Marquis:

I herewith submit the Annual Report of the Department of Public Works for the year ending December 31, 1966.

During 1966 the Public Works Department constructed Hillcrest Street from Fisher Road to Colby Road; Hodge Street from #8 to #26 inclusive; Rublee Street from Wollaston Avenue to westerly lot line of #49; Cherokee Road from Old Middlesex Path to Ridge Street; and Farmer Road from Quincy Street to Robbins Road.

Certain ways which had been originally constructed by Developers under Articles 43, 44, 45, 46, 47 and 48 of the Warrant were completed by the Department. This year these involved a small expenditure primarily legal and recording fees. They are Melvin Road, from Hodge Road westerly; Lennon Road from Summer Street to Blossom Street: Sleepy Hollow Lane from Ridge Street to its end; Twin Circle Drive, from Sleepy Hollow Lane to its end; Ridge Street, from College Avenue to Yerxa Road; and Ridge Street from Longmeadow Road to Oldham Road.

Under Article 57 the Public Works Department constructed the Hibbert Street Playground which will be used by the Park Department for playground purposes.

Under Article 31, Improvement of Drainage System, the Department installed 36" and 30" Drain Pipe, with appurtenances, in Ryder Street from Mill Brook to Forest Street; in Forest Street, from Ryder Street to Massachusetts Avenue and in Massachusetts Avenue from Forest Street westerly to approximate vicinity of Appleton Street.

Under the provisions of Chapter 782 of 1963 we constructed Claremont Avenue from Florence Avenue to Appleton Street and Hillside Avenue from Florence Avenue to Appleton Street. Under Chapter 679 of 1965 we reconstructed Everett Street from Massachusetts Avenue to Broadway.

Under Article 34 of 1965, otherwise known as Chapter 90, we reconstructed Lowell Street from Park Avenue to Lexington Line. This was rather a lengthy job involving a large amount of new drainage and property damage.

We also, under Chapter 90 of 1965, altered and reconstructed Summer Street at Mill Street which involved new traffic islands, resetting of stone walls, conduit for traffic lighting and removing and resetting of curbstone.

Under Article 78 of 1966 we installed a chain link fence between the Bishop School and adjacent private properties on Crosby Street.

Under Article 29 of 1966 new concrete and bituminous sidewalks, drives and new curbstones were installed in various locations throughout the Town.

Under Article 30 of 1966, public sidewalks which had become deteriorated or raised by tree roots were reconstructed and curb reset where necessary.

During July we experienced considerable difficulty when drainage pipe under the Warren A. Peirce Field became clogged causing excessive water to back up into the Public Works Yard.

Sewer, Water and Storm Drain mains were extended in various locations throughout the Town (See Tables). Similar types of mains were also installed by Developers in certain areas (See Tables). Additional catch basins were installed in trouble areas and in some cases larger grates were used.

In conjunction with the Fire Department, periodic inspections and tests were made of all the hydrants in the Town. Hydrants found faulty were immediately repaired by our Water System Maintenance Craftsmen. As in other years the co-operation of the Fire Department is commendable.

During 1966 our Sewer and Storm Drain mains were cleaned and flushed. We maintained and serviced our eight sewer pump chambers in addition to our two strom drain pump chambers. We rendered services on particular sewer and water connections on a twenty-four hour basis. This service is most appreciated by those in distress. Excessive use of detergents continues to plague the sewer connections, along with tree roots. Bills are rendered for this service but the cost is negligible compared to private industry.

As previously, in the Winter months every effort was expended to plow, sand and salt our roadways. We removed accumulated snow from the business and Church areas as rapidly as possible. With our limited fleet of sidewalk tractors we plowed as many sidewalks as we could, giving preference to those areas in the vicinity of Schools. We had under contract additional trucks and equipment which we only use when the scope of the storm is of such size to warrant their use. I would strongly urge the constant replacement of our old, outmoded snow fighting equipment. We can only perform to the extent of the efficiency of our equipment.

Once again, in co-operation with the Board of Health, we arranged for vaccine shots for those employees exposed to the elements. Our thanks to Dr. Feeley and the Board of Health for their continued co-operation.

We are still utilizing the vacant land off Summer Street and east of Reed Street for our Sanitary Landfill method of disposing of rubbish. The various owners of this property have been most co-operative and we take all means to keep the area orderly. During the summer months we spray this area and spread calcium chloride to keep the dust down.

During 1966 we performed many service for other Departments as follows:

School Department -

Conveyed food supplies throughout the year to cafeterias. Performed repairs on School Department vehicles. Installed ramp at Senior High School. Connected roof drains to storm drain system at Locke School and Cutter School. Partially blacktopped playground at Pierce School. Cut out doorway in concrete wall at Arlington Technical and Vocational High School. Excavated trench for electric scoreboard-High School. Painted various signs and sandblasted obscene writing at Senior High School, Junior High School West, Hardy School and Crosby School.

Board of Health -

Miscellaneous vehicle repairs. Painted desk.

Civil Defense -

Stocked shelters - filled water barrels - and conveyed stock throughout the year.

Elections and Town Meetings -

Constructed, repaired and moved Precinct boxes. Delivered and picked up Voting equipment for four elections.

Engineering Department -

Miscellaneous automobile repairs.

Fire Department -

Excavated and installed blacktop in driveway and rear area of Park Circle Station.

High School Addition Committee -

Installed chain link fence.

Building Department -

Miscellaneous automobile repairs.

Historical Committee -

Constructed and installed various signs - sandblasted milestone - refurbished sign.

Park Department -

Constructed various signs. Installed cement wall - North Union Street Playground. Installed manhole on particular sewer line at Spy Pond Field. Miscellaneous automobile repairs.

Robbins Library -

Installed bumper stops at Main Library. Cleaned out manholes and main line - Main Library.

Automotive -

We serviced all Public Works vehicles and those of all other Departments with the exception of the Fire and Police Departments. With the trend toward the almost complete utilization of mechanized equipment it is natural that our number of pieces of equipment should increase each year. Our Motor Equipment Repairmen perform all repairs regardless of the size of the equipment. We have power shovels on tracks and on rubber; heavy tractors on tracks and rubber; mobile power cranes on rubber; road rollers up to 15 ton weight; front end loaders with bucket capacity ranging from 3/8 yard to 1½ yard; air compressors both trailer-mounted and truck-mounted; road graders; Walter's Snow Fighters whose average age is 23 years; large, medium and small trucks; pumps, both centrifugal and diaphragm. We registered January 1, approximately 110 vehicles. Practically all of our equipment is of construction design. We maintain a large automotive stock room and allow other departments to draw upon our stock.
